Senate To Delay Richardson Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee appears unlikely to act on Elliot L. Richardson's nomination to be attorney general until he announces his choice as special Watergate prosecutor.

One of the Republican members, Sen. Marlow Cook of Kentucky, said Wednesday "that seems to be the sense of the committee."

The panel continues its questioning of Richardson today.

Richardson, now secretary of defense, told the committee he could name a Watergate prosecutor.

But Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott, also a committee member, said he expects Richardson's choice will be made known before a vote is taken on his nomination.

At the windup of the committee's first day of hearings, the subject had shifted to the break-in at the Los Angeles office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist. Ellsberg is on trial in Los Angeles for releasing the Pentagon papers.

Under questioning by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., Richardson testified that President Nixon never suggested to him that the Justice Department not provide information about the break-in to the California court.

Richardson said the only conversation he had with the President on the subject was a week ago Sunday when Nixon told him he had decided information about the break-in should be made available to the court.

Kennedy's questioning was prompted by a news story that Nixon had urged Richardson and Deputy Atty. Gen. Henry E. Petersen not to provide the information because it might adversely affect national security.

Richardson said this was not so, testifying "no suggestion ever came to me that disclosure should not be made."

Egil Krogh Jr., a former White House aide who headed an operation to try to plug leaks of what was regarded as national-security information, has taken responsibility for directing the break-in in which two convicted Watergate defendants participated.

Richardson said Nixon's decision came after a recommendation by Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst and Petersen, who had been directing the Justice Department's Watergate probe.

More Watergate Questions Raised

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, in a speech to the party faithful and financial backers, promises that "the guilty will be brought to justice" in the Watergate scandal. But Senate testimony about high-level involvement in clandestine operations has raised new questions about the strange goings-on.

In a Watergate development earlier in the day, the director of the Central Intelligence Agency told senators that a trusted Nixon adviser, John D. Ehrlichman, smoothed the way for E. Howard Hunt to obtain CIA materials later used in an office burglary.

CIA Chief James L. Schlesinger said the agency didn't know what Hunt's mission was but that giving him the aid was ill-advised, even though Ehrlichman, who gave up his White House post last week, was said to have asked that Hunt receive agency assistance.

Hunt, a one-time CIA employee, has testified he took part in the September 1971 burglary of a Los Angeles psychiatrist's office in an attempt to photograph the doctor's files on Daniel Ellsberg, a defendant in the Pentagon papers trial.

At the time, Hunt was working for the White House as a "security-affairs consultant." Nine months later, he was arrested in the break-in at Democratic headquarters in the Watergate here. Shortly after the Watergate arrests, Schlesinger said, the CIA gave an account of its dealings with Hunt to top Justice Department officials and Earl J. Silbert, chief prosecutor in the Watergate case.

It is not clear what was done with the information before the CIA's involvement was disclosed by The New York Times this week.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said "it is clear and shocking" that the agency violated the 1947 National Security Act by allowing itself to be used as a "costume house" by White House officials involved in domestic, covert operations.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, indicated he may expand his probe into the affair.

In another development related to the 1972 election, The New York Times today quoted sources as saying a New York grand jury is expected to return indictments today against two former members of Nixon's Cabinet.

The Times said the indictments would be returned against former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, who for a time headed the 1972 Nixon campaign, and former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans, the President's chief fund-raiser.

House Acts Quickly On State Lottery Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Senate-passed bill which would establish a state lottery commission to draw up a report on conducting a lottery made its way to the floor of the House today.

The House Rules Committee wasted no time Wednesday in putting the bill on the calendar after voters Tuesday approved a constitutional amendment removing a ban on state-run lotteries.

The Senate bill had been in the Rules Committee since April 5. It passed the Senate on March 1 by a 25-1 vote.

Rep. Tom Fries, D-35 Dayton, is expected to handle the bill on the House floor. The sponsor of the lottery bill in the Senate was Sen. Ronald M. Mottl, D-24 Parma. The bill creates a nine-man commission to study lottery operations and to make a recommendation.

Mottl believes that Ohio can be operating a lottery by November now that voters have voiced their approval.

In Wednesday floor sessions the house approved seven bills and sent them to the Senate. Among the bills was one that would grant furloughs to "trustworthy" prison inmates, upon promise to return.

Rep. William L. Mallory, D-23 Cincinnati, sponsor of the measure said, "this bill by no means extends the privilege to every prisoner in the state."

Among the stipulations for a leave is a requirement that a prisoner must have served at least six months of his term, except in the case of a family funeral or fatal illness.

Mallory noted that present law provides for furloughs if the inmate is accompanied by a guard. But experience in other states has shown that inmates properly screened will return to serve out their terms, he said. In the event a prisoner fails to return, he would be charged as an escapee, he added.

Without significant opposition, the House approved proposals to increase the monetary jurisdiction of small claims courts from $150 to $300, require school superintendent certification of claims for state school foundation payments, revise laws for school district transfers and consolidations, excuse delinquent taxes of churches which filed to apply for their exemption, ease requirements for a surviving spouse to claim an estate, and authorize the sale of school and ministerial lands for education financing.

In Senate actions two bills were passed and sent to the House. A bill allowing administrators of workmen's compensation funds to make short-term commercial investments passed by a vote of 30-0.

After some debate the Senate approved 31-1 a bill to allow the state's extension service program to increase its demonstration farms from 15 to 100.

Several urban area representatives objected to the $500,000 to $700,000 expected costs of the program until a member of their own ranks, Sen. Harry Meshel, D-66 Youngstown, took the floor.

"As we have supported measures for urban areas, so should we support similar programs for rural areas," Meshel said. Meshel was one of the bill's sponsors.

Lebanese Troops Battle Guerrillas On Syrian Border

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Lebanese troops battled Palestinian guerrillas from Syria into the early hours today along a 55-mile front in the eastern Bekaa Valley near the border, a senior army officer said.

He said the fighting stretched from the army's main garrison town of Marjayoun in the south to the vicinity of Baalbeck, in the northeast.

In many areas, including the towns of Hasbaya and Rachaya, villagers took to the hills armed with World War II rifles to support army jets and artillery attempting to repulse "a massive influx" of guerrilla reinforcements from across the Syrian border, the officer said.

At one point the infiltrators set up rocket and mortar positions on hills overlooking Rayack air base near the border. Air force jets flew 20 sorties against the invaders late Wednesday afternoon, then returned at midnight and bombed the positions from which the guerrillas were shelling the airfield.

The army said 13 of its men were killed, 65 wounded and six were missing in the fighting in the valley Wednesday.

Beirut was generally calm and both the army and the guerrillas pulled back from forward positions in the vicinity of the refugee camps around the city.

Guerrilla leader Yasir Arafat appealed indirectly to the Syrian government to halt the infiltration of guerrillas across the border, saying:

"In spite of our human and material losses we have bandaged our wounds and accepted a cease-fire in order to re-establish mutual confidence with sister Lebanon."

Yasir Arafat, the titular leader of all the Palestinian forces, made an indirect appeal from his headquarters in Beirut to the Syrian government to pull the invaders back.

The cease-fire ordered after fighting between the army and the guerrillas on the outskirts of Beirut Monday night and Tuesday appeared to be holding in the capital.

Beirut's international airport was still closed. Airline sources said 22 planes had been diverted to Cyprus in the past 24 hours and unloaded 800 passengers there.

Minnesota Twister Kills 1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms rumbled across scattered areas from the Pacific Northwest to New England and Florida today, but most of the nation enjoyed fair and mild weather.

Winds were clocked at 60 miles per hour at Omaha, Neb., and 35 at West Palm Beach, Fla., during thunderstorms Wednesday night.

A twister that ripped through a trailer park in a suburb south of Minneapolis-St. Paul Wednesday caused the death of a 5-year-old boy and injured his mother critically.

Nine were injured as the tornado destroyed 12 of 70 trailers in the park and damaged others. Two other funnel clouds were sighted in central Minnesota.

Rain was generally less than an inch wherever thunderstorms broke out.

In Santa Fe, N.M., state highway crews worked Wednesday to rechannel a stretch of the Rio Grande to relieve water erosion of a dike in the north section of the city.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 33 at Missoula, Mont., to 85 at Needles, Calif.

Force Cut Talks Make Progress

VIENNA (AP) — Representatives of the United States and the Soviet Union, in a joint appearance today, announced that the first plenary session of preparatory talks on European troop reductions will be held here next Monday.

A statement read first by the U.S. delegate and then by the Soviet representative, said: "Representatives of the 19 states who are the participants in the preparatory consultations related to central Europe which began in Vienna on Jan. 31, 1973 will hold a plenary meeting in the board room of the IAEA — International Atomic Energy Agency — building on Monday, May 14, 1973, at 10:30 a.m. — 5:30 a.m., EDT."

Although no details were disclosed, the announcement meant a breakthrough in the talks, deadlocked since Jan. 31 and that some kind of compromise had been reached.

Since the delegates from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Soviet bloc's Warsaw Pact began meeting in January, they have held only informal private talks.

Informants suggested that one of the compromises reached may have been on the status of Hungary at the talks.

Louis, Mo., has begun to recede after reaching crests far below the records established late last month.

The lower crests were attributed by a National Weather Service spokesman to less runoff from flooded land than had been expected.

The weather service predicted that the Mississippi would crest — for the fourth time this year — at St. Louis at 23.5 feet on Saturday. Earlier it said the crest would hit 39 feet. Flood stage at St. Louis is 30 feet.

Farther south, Army engineers said dry weather has caused them to lower their backwater flood predictions in the Vicksburg, Miss., area.

Some 12 million acres of land remain under water from south of the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. As many as 39,000 persons are still unable to return to their homes. Damage has been estimated at $410 million.

Army engineer officials said the absence of heavy rain this week in the Yazoo basin in Mississippi will keep the backwaters from rising, but flood water will probably remain in the area for at least six weeks after the Mississippi's crest passes Vicksburg this weekend.

In Louisiana, shy wild deer were reported starving at some points along 230 miles of the state's levees. Sheriff Bill Poe of Tensas Parish asked for state aid for feeding about 2,500 deer driven out of their usual bottomland haunts by the floods.

Dismissal Sought In Ellsberg Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Attorneys for Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo conclude their last arguments today on why they think the charges against their clients should be dismissed before the Pentagon papers trial, now tightly enmeshed with the Watergate scandal, goes to the jury.

U.S. District Court Judge Matt Byrne has promised that sometime during the day he would make a decision on the defense motion for dismissal based on Watergate and White House involvements in the case.

The defense has been pressing for dismissal ever since it was first revealed that Watergate conspirators E. Howard Hunt and G. Gordon Liddy had masterminded a burglary of the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

Attorneys for Ellsberg and Russo contend government activities uncovered by the judge's two-week probe of the matter have shown that the defendants' rights to a fair trial were violated.

Asst. U.S. Atty. David Nissen said nothing from the burglary was used by the Justice Department in prosecuting Ellsberg and Russo and that the government's evidence against them has not been tainted. He opposes dismissal of the charges.

But the defense team says it will not be satisfied until it has explanations of all government actions in the matter—including the 10-day delay between the time Watergate prosecutor Earl J. Silbert reported the burglary information and the day it was reported to Byrne.

Four Justice Department officials, including Nissen, filed affidavits with Byrne Wednesday saying they knew nothing about the burglary until the Silbert memo on April 16. But none of the statements mentioned why it took until April 26 to tell Byrne.

The defense team said it considered the affidavits "entirely insufficient" and would keep pressing for a full scale hearing with testimony. Defense attorneys have said they are "actively considering" trying to allege that President Nixon impeded delivery of the memo to the judge.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio Commerce Director Dennis Shaul Wednesday said that his department's Division of Securities has lifted an order suspending Circle Credit Union, Inc., Cleveland.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices edged lower again today, as Wall Street worried over Mideast oil talks, important labor negotiations and rising steel prices.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 2.76 to 946.27 at noon.

Analysts called the slide a continuation of Wednesday's decline, when the Dow lost nearly 6 points after talks between Western oil companies and Mideast oil countries ended in failure. The halt of crude oil shipments from Lebanon because of fighting there also depressed stock prices.

They were dealt a fresh jolt today when U.S. Steel said it was raising some of its prices by almost 5 per cent.

Packard Nixes Defense Post; 3 Others Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is back hunting for a new secretary of defense after multimillionaire David Packard turned down the job.

Administration sources now list three men as leading possibilities: —James R. Schlesinger, 43, director of the Central Intelligence Agency for only the past three months. Before that, Schlesinger was chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission and assistant budget director.

William P. Clements Jr., 56, Texas oil-drilling-company executive who has been deputy secretary of defense for a little more than three months.

—Kenneth Rush, 63, who served as deputy secretary of defense for 11 months before moving to the State Department as undersecretary in late March. Rush taught Nixon law at Duke University.

The 60-year-old Packard was deputy secretary of defense for 35 months during the first Nixon administration and gained a reputation as a tough manager who bore down on the military services to reform their buying practices.

The White House acknowledged a week ago that Packard was Nixon's first choice.

He apparently decided to decline the offer Wednesday because he could not work out a satisfactory arrangement for handling his $500 million worth of stock in the Hewlett-Packard Co., a California electronics firm he founded.

Hewlett-Packard does about $480 million worth of business a year, with about one-fifth directly or indirectly with the federal government, a company spokesman said.

The normal rule calls for a nominee for Cabinet rank to divest himself of any business connections that might suggest conflict of interest. But sources close to Packard said he could not sell his stock in Hewlett-Packard without driving down its price and badly damaging his company.

House Votes On War Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House decides today whether to authorize money for U.S. bombing of Cambodia. President Nixon's supporters said the showdown could result in the first House antiwar vote of the Indochina conflict.

Rep. Joe D. Waggoner, D-La., a leader of Southern Democrats who in the past have joined Republicans in support of presidents' war policies, said the coalition favoring the Nixon stand was about five votes short late Wednesday.

"If we were voting right now I think we'd lose," Waggoner said.

The vote was on Nixon's request in a $2.8-billion supplemental money bill for authority to transfer $430 million for military spending, including $150 million for the bombing and other Indochina activities.

Secretary of Defense Elliot L. Richardson said Monday the bombing will continue in an effort to force a Cambodia ceasefire even if Congress rejects the transfer authority.

Democratic leaders of the House and Senate pressed for its rejection anyway, contending it could be construed as approval not only of the Cambodian bombing but of future U.S. steps to try to force a cease-fire.

"I don't want to declare another war with ambiguous language in an appropriation bill," House Speaker Carl Albert said last week.

hardware for this nation's first space station aloft next week.

Wearing space suits, Charles Conrad Jr., Paul J. Weitz and Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin scheduled most of the day in a simulator at the Johnson Space Center in Houston.

They want to sharpen their skills for the real thing next Tuesday when a Saturn 1B rocket is to hoist them into orbit to begin pursuit of the Skylab workshop which is to be their orbiting home for four weeks.

The Skylab, large as a three-bedroom house, is to be launched by a Saturn 5 rocket at 1:30 p.m. EDT Monday into an orbit 270 miles high. The astronauts will follow at 1 p.m. the next day.

Conrad, Weitz and Kerwin are to execute a series of intricate maneuvers over a 7 1/2 hour period as they track down and link up with the big laboratory. Once aboard they will conduct numerous medical, scientific and earth resources experiments in an effort to learn whether man can live and perform useful tasks in space over long periods.

The Skylab 2 and 3 crews will rocket up to the same skylab in August and November, each for eight week stays.

On the Saturn 5 launch pad today, crews purged fuel tanks on the rocket and fed electrical power to the Skylab vehicle to test its electrical systems and miles of wiring.

Lightning struck a mast atop the Saturn 5 launch service tower during a thunderstorm Wednesday. It did no apparent harm, but crews retested all flight hardware to make certain. The count down was not affected.

Meanwhile, 131 tracking station technicians who had been on strike for 13 days reached agreement on Wednesday ending their contract dispute with the Bendix Field Engineering Division.

VA Patients Entertained At Legion Post

The first of a series of programs for VA Hospital patients was held Wednesday afternoon at the American Legion Post.

Hospital personnel in charge termed it a huge success. Richard Comstock, director of Voluntary Services at the Chillicothe facility described the response of Pickaway County Organizations as "Heart-warming."

About 50 patients and their sponsors were entertained with group singing, cards, checkers, crafts and bingo from 1:30 to 3:30. The veterans came from homes in Laurelville, Kingston, Tarlton and Circleville. This is a community effort to provide something worthwhile for the men to look forward to each week.

Volunteers from American Legion Auxiliary, Blue Star Mothers, Pickaway Senior Center, VFW Auxiliary and American Red Cross were on hand to welcome the men and assist with the games.

The program will continue each Wednesday afternoon at the Legion and all disabled veterans in the Community are invited to participate. All interested Community groups are welcome to assist. Volunteer services are being co-ordinated by the Pickaway County Red Cross chapter.

World Grain Reserves Said Inadequate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The world's reserves of grain are reported so low that some areas may face starvation if the coming harvest is poor.

Stocks of wheat and other food grains no longer provide an adequate buffer against crop failure, the Food and Agriculture Organization told the Economic Committee of the U.N. Economic and Social Council on Wednesday.

As a result, FAO is drafting a "minimum world food security" program in which major consuming countries would share with grain-growing countries the responsibility for emergency stockpiling. Director-General Addeke H. Boerma is to unveil the program at the agency's annual meeting in Rome next month.

Ambassador I.A. Akbun of Pakistan said such a program would make maintenance of grain stocks a global responsibility instead of something left to the producing countries and market conditions.

In past years, needy countries have been able to count on huge surpluses in producing countries, mainly the United States and Canada, but FAO Asst. Director-General E.M. Ojala said these surpluses have now disappeared.

"The governments concerned have developed new techniques for adjusting production to demand," he told the economic committee.

He said that even if surpluses reappear, "they will be temporary and undependable as the world's central food reserve in moments of crisis."

Ojala said world wheat reserves are the lowest in 20 years, down to 28 million tons and only 23 per cent of estimated 1973-74 needs.

29 Soldiers Said Slain In Cambodia

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Attacks on government positions north and south of Phnom Penh Wednesday night killed 29 soldiers, military sources reported today. It was one of the larger government death tolls reported in recent months.

Field reports said an enemy force overran a detachment guarding a bridge 9 1/2 miles south of the capital, killing 18 of the defenders and wounding five.

Forty miles north of the city on Highway 5, the Communists made two assaults on government troops trying to dislodge a strong force of insurgents. The command said 11 of its soldiers were killed and 18 were wounded.

Highway 5, the principal route from the rice bowl in northwestern Cambodia, has been blocked by the insurgents for more than two months. The 1st Brigade secured about seven miles of the road last week, but a sizable stretch is still held by the Communists, and rice convoys are unable to get through.

The Cambodian command also reported that night attacks were repulsed on outer defensive positions at Takeo, a besieged provincial capital 39 miles south of Phnom Penh, and at the fishing town of Kampot, on the Gulf of Siam.

In South Vietnam, the Viet Cong on Wednesday refused to accept 240 civilian prisoners after 10 others scheduled to be transferred demanded to remain under the Saigon government, the South Vietnamese command reported.

A meeting of the Joint Military Commission's subcommittee on prisoners of war was called to settle the dispute, which could stall the already delayed exchange of civilian prisoners.

Svetlana Divorced

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The marriage of Svetlana Stalin to William Wesley Peters has ended in a divorce by default.

Superior Court Judge Lawrence Doyle issued the divorce Tuesday after Mrs. Peters, daughter of the late Russian dictator Joseph Stalin, failed to appear in court.

Mrs. Peters, who sought political asylum in the United States in 1967, married her husband in 1970 and left him in late 1971. She said she disliked the communal style of living at Taliesin West, a fashionable architectural school started by Frank Lloyd Wright. Peters was a protege of Wright.

The judge granted Mrs. Peters, who now lives in Princeton, N.J., custody of the Peters' 2-year-old child, Olga Margedant. Peters was given "reasonable visitation privileges." Each was to retain his or her own property.

The marriage was the second for Peters, 60, and the third of record for Svetlana, 48.

Compromise REA Bill OKd

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has approved a compromise rural electrification and telephone loan bill.

The bill's floor manager, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., said after its passage 93-3 Wednesday that they were certain President Nixon would sign it.

Nixon abruptly halted last December the program that permitted rural co-ops to borrow money at 2 per cent interest for electrification and telephone projects.

Under terms of the compromise measure, a limited number of 2 per cent loans would be made available, but most of the loans would carry 5 per cent interest rates.

The bill would make $758 million in insured loans available annually, $618 million for electrification projects and $140 for telephones. Of this amount, $105 million would be for 2 per cent loans in needy cases, and the rest at 5 per cent.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Don't Take A Vote

DEAR ABBY: My mother has been a very sick woman for a year and a half. Her doctor says she could last another year, or die tomorrow. Half the time she doesn't even know me.

My husband and I have put off taking any kind of vacation ever since mother's illness, and we really must get away. My question: Should we go? I'm afraid if we go, mother might die, and we'll have to turn around and rush home.

I've asked our minister and he said we should go-but not too far. I've asked my mother in law and she said we shouldn't go at all. My best friend, who's a registered nurse, said we should go and take our chances. The doctor refuses to give me a yes or no. My husband says it's up to me.

What do you say, Abby?

HAVE A PROBLEM
DEAR HAVE: You have another problem: You want someone else to make the decision and accept the responsibility for it. So far you've polled the doctor, your minister, your mother in law, your best friend, your husband-and now me. Make your own decision, and accept full responsibility for it.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going around with this man for 6½ years. At one time we talked of marriage, but he asked that we postpone it because his mother was going through a divorce and he was quite upset about it.

Now, he tells me he thinks he is also in love with someone he met at work. He says he has never gone out with her, but they've had coffee a few times.

I love this man and want to marry him, but I can't think clearly now. How do you figure this?

CONFUSED
DEAR CONFUSED: I figure that 6½ years is long enough for him to make up his mind about marrying you. And if he could fall in love with a girl he's had only coffee with a few times, I'd like to know what kind of coffee it was. Tell him to get lost before he tells you to, which is probably what he has in mind.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 24-year-old college student. I'm also an alcoholic. I just want to let kids know that they don't have to be over 30 and on skid row to qualify as an alcoholic. Alcoholism is a disease that makes no distinctions in a person's age.

If teen-agers or young adults think they have a drinking problem and want to help themselves, please tell them to contact Alcoholic Anonymous. It is a wonderful organization of marvelous, understanding people who try to help each other.

Since I became a member two years ago it has helped me tremendously. Not only am I sober, I have been able to help others. It has been a lifesaving experience for me. Thank you for letting me share this.

YOUNG ALCOHOLIC
DEAR YOUNG: And thanks for wanting to.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MY READERS: Remember your mother next Sunday with a bouquet of flowers. (And if you're adopted, send her TWO bouquets.)

ABBY

Natural Resources Scanning To Occupy Skylab Crewmen

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts will play their first role as monitors of earth's natural resources when they board the Skylab space station.

They will use a $37 million array of six photosensors to evaluate actual and potential resources over a wide area of the globe.

A dozen countries have asked the astronauts to employ the sensors to scan farmlands, mountain ranges, river basins and watersheds in search of everything from minerals to crop disease.

The Skylab is scheduled to be launched May 14, with the three-man crew joining it the following day.

"The Skylab earth resources experiments offer an almost unlimited potential for near term benefits affecting man here on earth," reported astronaut Paul J. Weitz. He is the sensor expert on the Skylab 1 crew.

"During the five months the station will be manned by three crews, it will fly over 75 per cent of the earth's surface, including the entire United States except Alaska," Weitz said. "With this excellent view, data can be obtained applicable to mankind's most pressing problems, such as weather, food production, pollution, flooding, erosion and the depletion of natural resources."

Weitz emphasized the sensors are experimental, designed to determine which instruments can best be used by man in space and which can be operated on unmanned satellites.

"But," he said, "they could lead to a science in such things as mapping snow cover and assessing water runoff potentials; mapping air and water pollution and their sources; assessing diseased and healthy crops; timber volume estimate; locating arable land; determining sea status and fishing grounds, and locating hidden oil and mineral reserves."

More than 90 principal investigators from the United States and 20 from other nations are involved in Skylab's earth resources study, which involves the use of multispectral, optical, infrared and photographic sensors.

David Eisenhower Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — David Eisenhower, President Nixon's son-in-law, has taken a job as a baseball sportswriter with the Philadelphia Evening and Sunday Bulletin.

George R. Packard, the Bulletin's managing editor, said today that Eisenhower, 25, a graduate of Amherst College in Massachusetts and a reserve officer in the Navy, will be covering the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League East.

Packard said Eisenhower will pen a Sunday column, and that the grandson of the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower was hired because "he liked baseball."

Food Prices Near Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supermarket food prices appear to be heading this year for their biggest increase in two decades, say Department of Agriculture officials.

But they say most of the increase already has taken place and a leveling off may occur.

Figures released Tuesday, the first since February, indicate supermarket food prices will increase 10 per cent overall for the year—the biggest jump since 11 per cent was posted in 1951.

Over-all food prices are expected to increase by 9 per cent over the year, with restaurant prices increasing 5.5 per cent.

Over-all food prices went up 4.3 per cent last year with a gain of 4.5 per cent in supermarket prices and 4.0 in restaurant costs.

Pollution Variances Granted Utility Firms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency granted air pollution variances for sulfur oxide emissions to five power plants on Tuesday.

The variances were granted to Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. for its Eastlake plant, the Ohio Power Co. for its Cardinal and Tidd plants and the Ohio Edison Co. for its Stratton and Toronto facilities.

A Page Of Opinion

Unreported Crime

Law enforcement agencies from the Federal Bureau of Investigation to the smallest local force acknowledge that the crime rate in the United States is higher than the reported figures, because that is exactly what they are — reported. How many unreported crimes there are can only be guessed, but the total may be substantial.

An indication of how extensive is a pilot study undertaken by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration to develop a statistical basis for monitoring the characteristics of crime. Initially, 5,000 households and 1,200 businesses in each of two cities — San Jose, Calif., and Dayton, O. — were surveyed to uncover crimes, their causes and victims.

In the samplings, LEAA found the number of rapes and robberies were twice the number recorded by the police and aggravated assaults were five times as high. These were two relatively small studies, involving only two cities, but the implications are anything but reassuring.

Idealism And Watergate

By JEFFREY HART

It is slightly eerie experience, re-reading Scott Fitzgerald's "The Great Gatsby" this week, preparing for my senior seminar at Dartmouth, as the Watergate revelations and the shattered careers tumble around us. Everyone knows that the book has profound things to say about our national psychology, that it illuminates even some of the minor details on our one-dollar bill, but seldom can it have seemed more startlingly apposite than it does this week.

Nonsensical things are being written about the White House aides involved in the Watergate mess. It is being said that they are evil men. I know many of them, and they are not. A long piece is running in the New York Review of Books arguing that they are Southern Californians and therefore amoral, to which the only possible response must be that if crazy theses were horses, intellectual beggars might ride.

The truth is that even the most culpable White House aides are not corrupt in the usual sense, let alone evil. Paradoxically, they got involved in the crimes and the dirty tricks precisely because of their idealism. A skeptical person would not have touched those 007-type operations with a ten-foot pole, but these young and youngish Nixonians are believers. They were convinced that the brand of liberalism represented by the left wing of the Democratic Party is a deadly poison; they see themselves as representing the real America, that country west and south of New York and Washington, where, to use Scott Fitzgerald's phrase, the "dark fields of the republic rolled on under the night." And in neither of these beliefs were they altogether mistaken.

Of course it is the point of Fitzgerald's novel that Jay Gatsby is a crook—a bootlegger, maybe a murderer—not out of greed but out of idealism. He needs money, and he needs it fast, to realize his dream of transcendent beauty. He wants to marry Daisy Buchanan, he wants to recreate himself as an English gentleman, and—supreme transcendence of fact by idea—he wants to roll back the fact of time and mortality.

In the novel, Fitzgerald shifts back and forth between the glittering ideal and the sordid roots of Gatsby's wealth and power. Even as Gatsby is arranging his meeting with Daisy, phone calls arrive from Chicago—from his gangster connections; and the sinister crook Meyer Wolfsheim (reputedly drawn on the notorious Arnold Rothstein) offers Gatsby's friend Nick a shady business connection, as he calls it.

Fitzgerald is not saying that all idealism is corrupt. His point is rather that a certain intense pitch of idealism, peculiarly American, will stop at nothing. Jeb Magruder, who has admitted deep Watergate involvement, is reported as having often observed that Richard Nixon "must be re-elected at all costs."

A man like Magruder does not appear to be a crook. He comes from an old Maryland family, he was a tennis star at Williams College, he married a beautiful Vassar girl, he is a man of great charm, and a convinced conservative. He was done in, like Gatsby, by the excessiveness of his idealism.

The narrator of "The Great Gatsby" is bowled over by the revelation that Meyer Wolfsheim fixed the World Series of 1919. He should have stuck around. The Nixonians were trying to rig a Presidential election.

Though I don't know if he has ever read the novel, Richard Nixon has always been conscious of a streak of Gatsbyism in himself: the unknown boy in Yorba Linda, listening to those train whistles in the night; the self-made man, combining undoubted idealism with ruthlessness; and finally the President, now uneasily inhabiting the greatest mansion on earth, its name the very signature of the ideal: the White House.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, May 10, the 130th day of 1973. There are 235 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1869, a golden spike was driven at Ogden, Utah, marking the completion of the first railroad across the United States.

On this date— In 1479, the Italian navigator, Amerigo Vespucci, sailed on his first voyage to the new world.

In 1775, Ethan Allen and a company of Vermont militiamen — the Green Mountain Boys — captured Ft. Ticonderoga, in New York, from the British.

In 1865, during the Civil War, Union forces captured Confederate President Jefferson Davis at Irwinville, Ga.

In 1871, France ceded Alsace-Lorraine to Germany after the Franco-Prussian War.

In 1940, during World War II, German forces invaded Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

In 1941, the Nazi leader, Rudolf Hess, parachuted into Scotland in a private attempt to make peace in World War II.

Ten years ago: Pope John XXIII accepted the Balzan Peace Prize. It was the first time that a Roman Catholic pontiff had received a peace award.

Five years ago: U.S. fighterbomber pulverized a section of a southern suburb of Saigon in an attempt to wipe out an enemy stronghold.

One year ago: U.S. bombers struck North Vietnam's rail links to China.

Today's birthdays: Dancer Fred Astaire is 74. Comedienne Nancy Walker is 51.

Thought for today: Life's too short for chess — Lord Byron, English poet, 1788-1824.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The following is a statement made by the CBS Network:

"CBS has announced that they will begin showing X-rated movies on TV. They further state that if they receive no protests, these movies will be shown in the future at any hour of the day."

In a time when we are seeing the morals of this country continually lowering, I don't think we need to have this kind of thing on our television screens.

You may say my children will never see this, but how do you know they won't, especially in this day when more and more television viewing is being done.

If a child or teenager knows this is going to be shown, they are going to try to figure a way to get to see it.

This is not to criticize our youth. After all, who makes these movies? If you are against the showing of this kind of filth on television, please write a protest to the following address:

Dr. Frank Stanton, president, Columbia Broadcasting System, 51 West 52nd St., New York, N. Y. 10010.

Thank you,

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have developed colitis. For the last 20 years I have been taking a mild laxative every night.

Could the laxative be responsible after so many years?

Mr. M.C.F., Ore.

Dear Mr. F.:

There are two distinct aspects of your letter that I will comment on.

The first is the overuse and, sometimes, the abuse of laxatives or purgatives.

There are people who go into a tailspin if they have one day's variation of their normal bowel habits. Too many people concentrate too much on their "regularity."

Some, like yourself, insist that "only with laxatives can I maintain regularity."

The result is a dependence on laxatives which often goes on for many years. The intestinal tract becomes sluggish and ceases to function without the stimulation of the laxative.

In most instances, a change in the diet regime, increasing foods with roughage and especially increasing the intake of water, again regulates the bowel activity.

It should be emphasized that different types of laxatives stimulate the bowel in different ways. It is therefore most important that the laxative, even for a very short time, be chosen by the doctor.

About the colitis. This is a general term that is applied to many disorders of the small and the large intestine.

It is conceivable that certain types of colitis may have been caused by prolonged irritation by laxatives of the delicate lining of the bowel. The approach to your problem is, of course, the treatment of the colitis and reestablishment of bowel activity without the laxatives that you have become dependent on.

I have the most excruciating pain between my toes. I recall that my mother had the same thing at my age, which is 49.

Can there possibly be some inherited condition involved?

Mrs. E.T., Ind.

Dear Mrs. T.: I doubt that there is a congenital or a familial disorder that accounts for your problem. Rather, I would speculate that this is coincidental. The condition certainly needs study, both clinically and by X-ray.

There is an unusual condition known as "Morton's Neuroma," or "Morton's Toe." A small tumor of one of the nerves of the foot, usually in the web space between the third and fourth toe, can cause such severe pain. This usually occurs on one foot and is thought to be due to injury to the nerve.

Many devices have been used, with foam rubber padding and other protective means, to take pressure off the nerve and the small nodule that is on it. If this is the cause of your problem, surgery is effective and brings total relief.

Many other foot problems must, of course, be ruled out before coming to the conclusion that you may have a "Morton's Toe."

Business World

By JOHN CUNNEIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Test yourself. There's a good chance that you believe one or more of the following statements:

—We don't have any more family farmers in this country. Oh, a few, of course, but the big corporations have taken over and they've pretty much run the little fellow out of business.

The facts dispute this widely held notion. Data from the 1969 census aren't available yet, but those who follow the trends, such as the Conference Board, believe that 95 per cent of farms are still family-operated.

That was the percentage found in other studies made in 1949, 1959 and 1964, even though there was a sharp decrease in the number of farms — from 6,350,000 in 1940 to 2,876,000 in 1970.

There are several reasons why the belief has taken hold. One is that the average farm size has grown from 175 acres to about 390 acres in the past 30 years or so. Another is that the 5 per cent nonfamily farms account for a big share of production — 35 per cent in 1964.

The fact is that many of the large corporations that did go into farming found it not nearly as profitable as they had expected, and some of them now believe that there may be size limitations on the efficient farm.

What is a family farm? According to the Agriculture Department it is "an agricultural business in which the operator is a risk-taking manager, who, with his family, does more than half of the farm work."

—The reason for our high food prices is the middleman. He's got a great big appetite for money, and he's making all of us pay through the nose.

The explanation isn't that simple. There's no denying that in recent years the foods that leave the farmer's lands go through many processes that add to delivery cost. But there's little evidence of any profiteering.

First National City Bank notes that civilian spending for farm foods in 1971 totaled $111.1 billion, an increase of $44.2 billion over 1960. Of this increase, farmers received only $13.5 billion, the middleman $30.7 billion.

However, little of this increase seems to be reflected in middleman profits. It seems there are more and more middlemen to prepare and distribute foods that once were delivered raw. And the middleman's expenses also have risen.

In summary: True, the transporting, processing and distribution of foods is eating up a lot more of the food dollar. But rather than blaming any one group, perhaps you should accuse our changing customs and appetites.

—By any measure, General Motors and American Telephone & Telegraph are the largest companies in the United States, in fact, the largest in the entire world. It's been that way for years.

Times change and that statement isn't true today. GM might be the largest manufacturer and have the greatest profits. And AT&T might have the greatest assets and the largest number of shareholders, but...

International Business Machines has the greatest market value of any company in the world, with investors giving it a price of $47.8 billion. That's the figure you'll arrive at by multiplying price per share by shares outstanding.

That price is almost double the combined market value of AT&T and GM. AT&T is in second place, with a value of $28.79 billion. GM is in fifth, with market value of $20.42 billion.

In between, in a compilation by Standard & Poor's, are Eastman Kodak, at $21.81 billion and Exxon, at $21.53 billion.

Kids Asked Authors

LONDON (AP) — Many youngsters rate stories told by mom and pop above professionals' work, according to a survey by Nicholas Tucker, a lecturer at Sussex University.

He found that a number of children put under the "favorite author" heading, "My parents."

They'll Do It Every Time

Sneek-A-Peek

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Billions of years ago, somewhere on our planet, a reptile-like creature crawled out of the water and walked onto the land. His may have been the first steps on our land. Millions of years after that there was created the Lemur, a monkey-like animal who lived in trees and who had paws similar to our hands. The Lemur may have been our relative; our great, great, great, etc. grandfather or grandmother; for it is generally believed that man evolved from such a creature. Actually, some of my relatives look very much like the Lemur pictured in "How Man Began", a science book by Carla Green which teaches the theory of evolution. Miss

Green emphasizes that one of the biggest steps forward in the history of man was his learning to make and use tools. Unfortunately, with the emergence of the modern-day basement, those tools were all misplaced in a hopeless clutter and now man can't find them any more!

Some of the best of the new science books for very young children are found in a series entitled, "Wonder Starters". These books are custom-made for the very young reader of the kindergarten or first-grade level. The print is large, the pages are colorful, and the text is simple, yet informative. The books we have received of this series are entitled, "Sleep", "Fire", "Dinosaurs", and "Homes". They answer a lot of questions for the young reader with an inquisitive mind.

National Geographic, a company famous for its excellent magazines, also has a new series of science books for young people. These books include photographs of the same quality found in the National Geographic Magazines. They are written on various levels, and include stories for the very young readers as well as readers of the fifth or sixth-grade level. In "Lion Cubs" for example, the story of a family of lions is told through photographs and very simple text.

"Treasures In The Sea", also in the National Geographic Series, is a history-science book which follows a ship of many years ago through the seas. The ship is attacked by pirates, and a bloody battle follows. Eventually the ship is sunk, and its treasure is doomed to rest at the bottom of the sea for hundreds of years. The latter half of this book has photographs of sea treasures and of the beautiful animal life of the deep seas.

Books such as these will not be found in our picture-book section. They are science books, and are classified in that way. If you have a very young reader who enjoys picture books, don't overlook this type of book. They combine fun reading with education.

Counterfeit Bills Flood Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The Secret Service has confiscated about $100,000 in counterfeit $20 bills in the past month and a half and has warned the Cincinnati area to watch for the bogus bills.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Norbert A. Nadel said Wednesday a large quantity of the phony bills are still in circulation.

Agents have arrested Lowell Edward Warren, 34, of Cincinnati for passing a counterfeit $20 bill. They said he had two more bills in his possession.

U.S. Court Orders EPA Funds Freed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Overriding President Nixon's efforts to withhold appropriated funds, a federal court has ordered the Environmental Protection Agency to release all the money Congress has approved for fighting water pollution.

Nixon had announced his intention to forward to states and municipalities less than half the $11 billion Congress appropriated for fiscal years 1973 and 1974. The money is to be used for building sewage-treatment plants.

U.S. District Court Judge Oliver Gasch, in a suit brought by the city of New York, said Tuesday that the Federal Water Pollution Control Act of 1972 "clearly indicates the intent of Congress to require the administrator (of the EPA) to allot at the appropriate times the full sums authorized."

Nixon had ordered the funds cut as part of his campaign to limit spending. Gasch quoted a recent court decision: "In our over-all pattern of government, the judicial branch has the function of requiring the executive branch to stay within the limits prescribed by the legislative branch."

He did not mention the case in which the decision was rendered. But the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis recently ordered the Department of Transportation to provide all highway-construction funds the federal government appropriated for the state of Missouri.

In another recent court test that went against the White House in its battle with Congress over who sets spending levels, a federal court in Washington, D.C., ordered a stop to Nixon's dismantling of the Office of Economic Opportunity, which Nixon sought as another budget move.

Gasch cited both decisions. Congress appropriated up to $5 billion in water-pollution funds for fiscal 1973 and up to $6 billion during fiscal 1974.

But government regulations last December made only $2 billion available during fiscal 1973 and $3 billion during fiscal 1974.

New Buildings In Violation At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Four of Cincinnati's newest high rise buildings have been cited for a total of 54 building code violations following recent reinspections.

William Ahlert, city building commissioner, issued the orders after the Ohio Board of Building Standards (OBBS) complained of fire hazards.

OBBS threatened to decertify the city Building Department, which is on probation, after citing the code violations in February.

The buildings cited are Sanders Hall at the University of Cincinnati, the Holiday Inn on West Eighth Street, Page Towers and the Fifth-Race Tower.

Ahlert estimated it would cost more than $100,000 to correct the deficiencies.

City Manager E. Robert Turner, reporting to city council, said those responsible for the four buildings have indicated "complete willingness to cooperate in securing buildings that are completely fire safe."

Ex-Head Bookkeeper Named In Charges

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The former head bookkeeper at the Portage National Bank in Kent was arrested Wednesday and charged with embezzling about $22,000, according to the FBI.

Dorothy Faith Parks, 34, allegedly embezzled the money from May, 1968, to March, 1973, according to Frederick C. Fehl, special agent in charge of the Cleveland FBI office.

MISS CATHY THOMPSON

Monday Club Names Scholarship Award Recipient For 1973

Monday Club, one of the oldest clubs in the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, has been informed that its candidate for the Annette Phelps Lincoln Scholarship was selected for the honor. The announcement was made at the OFWC State Convention held recently in Columbus.

Miss Cathy Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ullman of Circleville is the recipient of this award given annually by OFWC. She will be co-valedictorian of the Circleville High School class of 1973.

During her high school career, Cathy has participated in many extra-curricular activities. She is currently serving as an officer in the both the SOS Club and the English Merit Society. She is a member of the National Honor Society and was named the Betty Crocker "Homemaker Of Tomorrow" for CHS in 1973. When not attending classes or participating in her many school activities, Cathy works as an office girl in the Guidance Office of the high school.

Outside of school Cathy is an active member of the Marie L. Hamilton Assembly 170 Order of the Rainbow for Girls. She is a member of Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church and has served as an officer of the Youth Fellowship both at her church and on the District Council.

Cathy has been accepted at Marietta College where she will begin the study of political science in the fall of 1973. Following graduation from college, she is considering a career in law.

Earlier in the year, this outstanding Circleville girl was selected to receive the Memorial scholarship given by The Monday Club.

Personals

They all called on Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth VanCuren, Mr. and Mrs. Dale VanCuren and Mr. and Mrs. Therrel VanCuren and families.

Anniversary Celebrated

By Mrs. Marion's Class

Mrs. Marion's Class of Community United Methodist Church celebrated its 61st Anniversary and its 42nd Mother-Daughter Banquet in the church social rooms on Monday evening.

Punch and canapes were served in the bridal room preceding the dinner prepared by members of Sarah Circle 51 members and guests.

Grace was said by the Rev. David Frazer and Della Wertman served as toastmistress. The welcome was given by Ethel McFarland and the response by Joan Savage. Members introduced their guests.

New officers presented by Della Wertman included: Hazel Yeatts, president; Helen Brown, vice president; Kathryn Thomerson, secretary and Bennie Burns, treasurer.

55th Anniversary Celebrated By Former Residents

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Richter, of Glennell Acres, Lake McQueeney, Texas, were honored Sunday for the occasion of their 55th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Richter are Ohio natives and were residents of 142 Pleasant St., Circleville, before moving to Texas in 1954.

The couple was married near Kingston, Ohio on April 24, 1918. Before retiring some years ago, Mr. Richter was associated with Ray Ellison Enterprises, and Mrs. Richter was an employee of Winn's, both in San Antonio, Texas.

Hosts and hostesses for the reception were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. (Edith) Brown, and their only grandson, Thomas W. Brown, a Task Force Officer with the San Antonio, Texas Police Department, and his wife, Judy.

A buffet dinner was served to 23 guests. The beautifully appointed table was centered with an arrangement of delicately hued spring flowers. The color scheme was carried out in white, green and yellow. The cake was a white confection, inscribed and embossed in emerald green.

Mr. and Mrs. Richter were the recipients of lovely gifts, flowers and cards, as tokens of love and affection from their family and friends.

The guest list included: Mrs. Thelma Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Vokes, all of Lake McQueeney; two of their three great-grandsons, Troy and John; Mr. and Mrs. William A. Sills, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallis, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Byers, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Roberts, and Mr. and Mrs. Van Tetterton, all of San Antonio, Texas.

Mrs. Richter's twin sister, Mrs. Neal B. Albin, resides near Chillicothe, as do Mr. Richter's two nephews, William E. Diehl, Kingston and Donald A. Diehl, both prominent farmers, and one niece, Mrs. Robert E. Cromley, Ashville.

Patient Abuses Claimed At LSH

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Plain Dealer reported this morning that patient abuse is continuing at Lima State Hospital, two years after extensive investigations into charges of brutality at the hospital.

The newspaper reported that mistreatment is more covert now and that there is not as much brutality as before.

Investigations into the earlier alleged brutality resulted in indictments against 28 hospital employees and three former employees. Charges included aggravated assault, torture and sex offenses.

Twenty-six of the employees indicted were permitted to plead guilty to a reduced charge of assault last year and were reinstated with back pay. Charges were dismissed against one employee and three former employees and one employee was acquitted by a judge before the case went to a jury.

The newspaper reported that although the alleged brutality is less apparent now, both patients and professional staff members said patient mistreatment is still common.

The Plain Dealer reported that attendants are able to have patients drugged or put into solitary confinement for violation of rules the attendants, themselves, devise.

It quoted one patient as saying: "I've seen a lot of patients all bent over who couldn't hit their mouths with a spoon when they ate, because they were on such heavy medication."

The newspaper reported that a "silence rule" is still invoked against patients in some parts of the hospital, despite a directive from the Ohio Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation intended to end the rule.

Patients who said they had serious medical problems also claimed they were unable to get adequate care.

The Plain Dealer began its original investigation of Lima State Hospital in May, 1971.

The articles that followed resulted in investigations of the hospital by the state attorney general's office and state Highway Patrol that produced the indictments.

Israeli Wows Kent Audience With Mind-Reading Exhibition

KENT, Ohio (AP)—An Israeli psychic held an overflow Kent State University audience spellbound Wednesday night with a demonstration of mind reading and telekinesis.

Uri Geller, 26, had to try five times before he was able to flatten a ring held in the palm of a girl's hand, but few in the crowd of 1,500 at the KSU Student Center complained.

"The convinced were wowed; the skeptics, well, they're still skeptical, of course," said one member of the audience after the demonstration.

Geller also described a girl's clothes while blindfolded and as she stood behind him and, in some cases, apparently was able to "read" colors or words written on a blackboard while he was blindfolded.

He also "repaired" three broken watches by waving his hand over them.

Geller said he could feel his unusual mental abilities at an early age but confirmed them at age 7 when he discovered he could move the hands of his watch.

He said he is able to use the power only once every few weeks and that sometimes "nothing happens."

The university also showed a film of tests Geller performed while under study at the Stanford Research Institute last year. In some of the tests, he was able to pick a ball bearing-containing can from among 10 identical cans 12 out of 12 times.

Man's Mishap Ends Record

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— There was no doubt about the driving record of Carl D. Olson, 85, when he showed up in South Euclid Municipal Court this week on a traffic charge.

Olson brought along every driver license he's held since 1914—18 of them—and all unmarked by violations.

Olson had been charged with failure to yield the right of way after turning left from an intersection and colliding with another car.

"This is a fine collection," said Judge Jerome A. Klein, looking at the licenses, "and you certainly have a fine record."

"This is my first experience in court and my first accident," Olson said. "So I've decided to quit driving."

"You don't have to quit on my account," Klein said. "Your record is too good."

Then he fined Olson $30 and costs.

Steelmakers Eye Soviet Process

WASHINGTON (AP) — American steelmakers huddled with Soviet salesmen and engineers today in hopes of striking a deal for Russia's antipollutant dry-quenching coke system.

Coke, a by-product of coal, is needed to make steel. But in the U.S. coke production with its dirty water-cooling finish is one of nation's major sources of air and water pollution. Steel firms have been under intense pressure from the Environmental Protection Agency to clean up the process.

So, U.S. Steel Corp., the No. 1 producer, and other companies reportedly are turning to Russia for the cleanup answer that will cost millions at the beginning but may be economical.

Patent Management, Inc., which holds the Soviet rights, held a public symposium Wednesday and then arranged private meetings today with representatives of V-O Licensintorg, the Soviet trading agency. "They've got something to sell," said Henry Shur, Patent Management president. "We believe Soviet technology in this metallurgical field is more advanced than American technology."

In the Soviet system, the hot coke is lowered into a chamber and cooled by cold gas which heats up and makes steam used to power the steel furnaces. It is totally enclosed.

Compare this to wet quenching: tons of water are sprayed on the coke as it rolls by on cars. The dirty steam is thrown into the air and then turns into water.

Shur said it would cost between $7.1 and $11.3 million to build the Soviet process in America, and that the expenditure would be recoverable within four years in coke savings and steam recovery. The Russian know-how fee was reported to be within 10 per cent of the plant cost.

Soviet process, this summer with completion during 1975.

Smaller plants, using processes similar to Russia's, are in use in England, Switzerland, West Germany and France.

School Bus Service Stops

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — School bus service came to a halt Wednesday at two Cincinnati junior high schools after bus drivers complained of unruly students.

"The students have backed us against the wall, and we're not going to take any more," said Eugene Metz, president of the Amalgamated Transit Union.

"I don't know how they got home today and care less," he said.

Vandalism also reportedly was a factor in discontinuance of service.

Herman V. Bryant, principal of Merry Junior High, said the stoppage came "by mutual agreement between the Cincinnati Transit Co. and the Board of Education."

Bryant said discontinuance was "recommended several weeks ago. School will last only a few more weeks and this cutoff will probably last until then," Bryant said. "What happens next year, I don't know."

The Royal Canadian Military Institute, with its headquarters in Toronto, maintains a military and historical library of about 12,000 volumes.

Japan reportedly plans to start construction of a plant, using the

Forecast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More scattered showers and thunderstorms can be expected over Ohio today as another cold front moves across the state. The showers are expected to end gradually with temperatures climbing into the 70s again today.
The National Weather Service added that a little cooler weather is likely tonight in most sections with lows ranging from the upper 40s in the extreme northwest to the low 60s in the southeast.
There were some showers and thunderstorms in the state again Wednesday night but most rainfall amounts were light, a quarter inch or less. A brief period of heavy rain at the Canton-Akron Airport was accompanied by wind gusts to 50 m.p.h.
Mild weather is continuing with temperatures at dawn ranging from the upper 50s to the mid 60s. The morning weather chart showed the low pressure centered over Lake Superior with the cold front from Lake Huron through northern Indiana to central Missouri.
This is the front which will move eastward to a line from western New York through southeastern Ohio to western Tennessee by Thursday evening and pushing on east by Friday morning.
As the front continues out of the area mostly sunny weather on Friday will see temperatures a little lower, ranging from the mid and upper 60s in the north to mostly the low 70s in the south.

Forecasts:

Board Of Realtors Hold Guest Night

Realtor Board members and their guests were privileged on Tuesday evening to hear Mrs. David L. Yates, of the Scioto Society Board, describe the story of "Tecumseh!" from its beginning struggles three years ago.
The world premiere of this epic outdoor historical drama will be held June 30, in the new Sugarloaf Mountain Amphitheatre, located south of Circleville off Route 23. The drama will run from July 1 to September 2, every evening except Monday.
Mrs. Florence Kitchen, president of the Pickaway County Board of Realtors, announced that Realtor Week will be observed from May 20-26. Newspaper and radio publicity will be used, and bumper stickers will be available to member offices.

12 Ohio Counties Eligible For Loans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Farmers Home Administration has declared 12 northwestern Ohio counties eligible for disaster loans, according to U.S. Rep. Delbert Latta, R-Ohio.
Latta said the loans will be given at five per cent interest and based on the damage to 1972 crops resulting from storms and weather conditions. He added that applications will be accepted at FHA offices through July 6.
In another announcement from the Congressman's Washington office, Latta said that Harley Hicks, a farmer from Continental, Ohio, in Putnam County was named executive director for the Ohio office of the Agriculture and Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Doctor Discloses Krogh 'Threat'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Egil "Bud" Krogh Jr., the Nixon administration official who resigned Wednesday amidst the Watergate-Pentagon papers web of scandal, once threatened to destroy anyone who opposed President Nixon's policies.
The threat was made to a prominent doctor who had told Krogh he would not support legislation that would have created a permanent White House office to deal with narcotics traffic and drug abuse.
"Well, don't worry, Doc," Krogh is quoted as replying. "Anyone who opposes us we'll destroy. As a matter of fact, anyone who doesn't support us we'll destroy."
Krogh could not be reached for comment.
The doctor involved was Daniel X. Freedman, chairman of the department of psychiatry at the University of Chicago and a well-known authority on psychopharmacology, the study of the effect of drugs on mental states.

In a telephone interview Wednesday, Freedman confirmed the 1970 incident and said that, while he doubted that the threat endangered him, he was uneasy about it for a long time.
"Maybe that's just the way these people talk," Dr. Freedman said. "I do think the language was excessive. I remember thinking at the time that Krogh was referring to destruction of people in Congress who opposed the President rather than to destruction of me, but I was very uneasy about the thing for several years."
"I didn't want to get hurt nor did I want anyone associated with me hurt. I was so uneasy because I just couldn't be certain what he had in mind."
According to Dr. Freedman and several other sources who independently confirmed the story, the incident had its roots in 1969 when Nixon asked for, and the Senate unanimously passed, the Controlled Substances Act. The bill put in the hands of the attorney general sole authority to decide what drugs were dangerous, who could use them and who could do research with them.

Dr. Freedman, as head of the Committee for Effective Drug Abuse Legislation, argued that the bill put too much power in one man's hands. The group, lobbying in the House, got the bill modified to say that the secretary of health, education and welfare would be included in those decisions.

Wheat Estimates Expected To Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is scheduled to publish today (3 p.m. EDT May 10) an estimate of U.S. winter wheat production this year, including the outlook for per acre yields as of May 1.
Although the first official field estimates for 1973 output of spring-planted wheat are not due until July, the winter wheat figure will give an idea how this year's over-all crop is shaping up.
Last March, when USDA published farm planting intentions for various crops, wheat production this year was projected at a record of 1.732 billion bushels, 12 per cent more than farmers harvested last year and 7 per cent more than the previous high of 1.618 billion in 1971.
The March figure included a winter wheat estimate—actually made last December—of 1.278 billion bushels, which also would be a new high. Projected in March on the basis of expected acreage and yield trends, the 1973 crops of durum and other spring wheat were put at around 454 million bushels.
If in the proportion of 1.7 billion bushels or larger, the 1973 crop of all types of wheat would go a long way in replenishing U.S. supplies. Those reserves, drained off by record exports, are expected to be the lowest in six years when the new crop year begins July 1.

Total exports for the fiscal year ending June 30 are currently put at 1.150 billion bushels, including the sale in 1972 of 440 million to the Soviet Union. Looking ahead to next fiscal year, officials say wheat exports could run about 950 million bushels.
The record exports, topping the old mark of 867 million bushels in 1965-66, will leave a July 1 reserve estimate now at no more than 441 million bushels. A year ago the stockpile was 863 million bushels.
Although Russia is not expected to repeat its big 1972 wheat order from U.S. farmers, administration officials do think the Soviets will continue to buy substantial amounts on the world market.

House Gets Registration By Postcard

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed and sent to an uncertain fate in the House a bill that would allow Americans to register for federal elections by mailing a postcard.
The White House opposes the measure, which won 57-37 Senate passage Wednesday only after a month-long filibuster by Southerners and conservatives was broken.
Twice earlier the Senate had failed to cut off debate and bring the bill to a vote. Opponents, led by Sens. James Allen, D-Ala., and Hiram Fong, R-Hawaii, contended registration by mail would promote election fraud.
The vote on halting the filibuster was 67 to 32, with all senators voting except John C. Stennis, D-Miss., who is recovering from gunshot wounds.
The bill, which was killed in the Senate last year, would create a voter-registration administration. The Census Bureau would identify potential voters and the Postal Service would deliver registration cards. The voter would register simply by returning the card. The maximum penalty for false registration would be a $10,000 fine and five years in prison.
Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., sponsor of the bill, estimated the project would cost $19 million a year. Opponents put the price tag at $120 million.

URW And Goodrich To Continue Talks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The B. F. Goodrich Co. and the United Rubber Workers were scheduled to renew formal negotiations today in an attempt to end a three-day-old strike at the seven Goodrich plants across the country.
The talks were to resume amid URW charges that the other three major tire and rubber companies—Goodyear, Uniroyal and Firestone—scuttled a possible Goodrich settlement by interfering in the talks which preceded the strike.

Columbus Man Killed

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Leonard Vinson, 50, of Columbus, Ohio, was killed Wednesday when his tractor-trailer truck struck an embankment on Interstate 80 near here, state police said.

OU Students Win Athens Noninations

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Two city council races will have Ohio University students as the Democratic candidates in the November general election.

Seven students sought nomination to council races in Tuesday's primary.

Michael J. McAlister beat three other students for party nomination in the First Ward. He will face Thomas Ruth, unopposed for the Republican nomination.

Gale D. Snoddy, a senior in sociology, ran third in a five-candidate Democratic slate for three at-large council seats and will be among candidates on the fall ballot.

Other Democrats winning places in the at-large races were Patricia Gyi, special assistant to Ohio University President Claude Sowle, and Jerry L. Adams, a university president.

Their Republican opponents for the at-large seats will be B. Tad Grover Jr., a bank president; Fred W. Weber II, an employee of the Athens Messenger, and Norman H. Dohn, a journalism professor at the university.

In other council nominations, Thomas H. Smith, a Democrat and university professor, defeated Bruce E. Mitchell, a student, for the nomination. Smith faces Republican Joe Johnson in the fall.

In the third Ward, Kenneth W. Collins, Republican incumbent, won nomination and will face Phyllis Katz, Democrat who was unopposed for the nomination.

In the Fourth Ward, Gregory W. Hill, Democrat and a university graduate now employed at the university television station, was nominated over student Mike Duffy. Hill faces Republican Charlie Laughlin in the fall election.

Ohio Mining Rules Effective On May 25

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Natural Resources Director William Nye said that rules for administering and implementing Ohio's new strip mine law will take effect May 25.

Nye said the rules were filed in the secretary of state's office Tuesday.

The rules "are strict but fair," Nye said. "They spell out what is required from strip mine operators on everything from pre-operational soil and water tests to reclamation revegetation standards."

The rules require that reclamation of land be concurrent with mining operations.

"Too many times in the past," Nye said, "wide areas of land were mined without any reclamation taking place until the entire mining operation was completed."

"Often, erosion and drainage became major problems before reclamation was started."

The rules also require, for the first time, that the state respond to citizen complaints and queries.

"Any person who has a comment or complaint about a pending license application, a strip mine operation or approval of reclamation work can file it with the chief of the Division of Reclamation," Nye said.

The chief can then answer the inquiry himself or request information for a reply from the strip mine operator, who must supply the information, according to Nye.

Detailed engineering plans and complete descriptions of reclamation plans must be submitted with applications for strip mine licenses under the new regulations.

Some U.S. Cars Already Meet '75 Standards

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four U.S.-manufactured 1973 cars have performed in federal tests within the new, relaxed pollution levels set by the government for 1975.

Detroit's Big Three automakers have attacked the auto emission levels

L.A. Times Publisher Talks At OU

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Los Angeles Times publisher Otis Chandler said Wednesday night that the Times' mail about the Watergate scandal "has changed dramatically" during the last few weeks.

Earlier, Chandler said, "most readers were not convinced that we (the press) were telling the truth about the seriousness of Watergate."

Chandler made the comments at Ohio University where he appeared during the university's Communication Week. He was presented the school's Carr Van Anda award, which cited him for making the Times "one of the greatest newspapers in the world."

On Watergate, Chandler warned journalists against too much jubilant self-congratulations saying, "It's still too early to tell whether we've changed the public's mind about the press and the public's right to know."

Chandler also expressed hope that the journalism profession can "get an absolute privilege law out of this Congress." A qualified privilege law, he said, could "be worse for us than no law at all."

as extremely severe and almost impossible to meet without complicated devices that filter exhaust gases.

Sources at one automaker estimated that as many as 33 other 1973 models tested by the Environmental Protection Agency came so close to meeting the 1975 levels that '75 models probably could meet the levels. The reason is that less stringent emission test conditions are planned for that year.

The EPA's certification test results on the four 1973 U.S. cars and a fifth, a Frenchmade Peugeot station wagon, were published without fanfare last week in the Federal Register.

Asked about these results, Eric Stork of the EPA's auto pollution office said he could not characterize the 1973 cars as having already met the 1975 standards because comparing current and 1975 standards is complex and results can vary.

But the EPA tests show that each U.S. automaker "is marketing a car which has a high potential for meeting the 1975 standards," Stork said.

Spokesmen for the Big Three automakers—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—said that the companies still stand by last month's statements that national auto emission standards for 1975 appear impossible to meet without catalytic converters for filtering exhaust.

But one spokesman, who asked not to be identified, said "We're awfully close, but we've got to get far better so our average stays up."

Chrysler, whose Plymouth Satellite with a 340 cubic-inch engine showed pollution levels within 1975 specifications, called the EPA's test results happenstance. The same car emitted pollutants in excess of 1975 levels in Chrysler's own tests, even though the car performed better in EPA tests. Instrument measuring alone could cause a 10 to 20 per cent difference in readings for the same car, a Chrysler spokesman said.

"The test results cited illustrate the phenomenon of test variability," said Donald A. Jensen, Ford's director of auto emission control programs.

Ford's LTD-class car with a 400 cubic-inch engine came in under the 1975 pollution levels.

General Motors' cars performed the best over-all of the American makers in the EPA 1973 certification tests. One of its Vegas produced pollutants within 1975 levels.

The other 1973 car within the 1975 levels was an American Motors Hornet.

Former EPA Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus granted the automakers' request for easier 1975 nationwide standards last month. But he set interim standards slightly higher than the manufacturers had asked.

Staff Names Seniors Of Week

By PAM SCHOOLEY

Students of the senior class are being saluted by the Mustang Country Staff this week as Seniors of the Week.

Max Rothgeb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Rothgeb, resides at Route 1, Williamsport, and is enrolled in a general course of study.

After school hours, Max works at the Massey-Ferguson building in Columbus. His hobby during his spare time is auto mechanics.

Following graduation, Max wants to find a good job and may further study in auto and diesel mechanics courses.

Debbie Wilkey Ward resides at Route 2, Mt. Sterling, with her husband, Kenny L. Ward. She is enrolled in the business course of study.

At school Debbie is a member of the National Honor Society. Her hobbies include reading, cooking, and sewing.

Debbie plans to get a job after graduation in May.

Danny Casto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Casto, lives at Route 3, Circleville, and is enrolled in general courses at school.

Dan is a teacher's aid for Mr. Tracy at school during sixth period. He enjoys hunting, fishing, and working on small engines and cars.

After graduation, Dan plans to take it easy for a month or so, then try to find the vocation that is best for him.

Ann Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Graves, resides at Route 1, Mt. Sterling. She is enrolled in general courses at school.

Ann likes to sew and to paint during her spare time. She is presently undecided about her future plans.

Lila Bennington resides in Atlanta with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennington, and is also enrolled in the general course of study.

The county National Honor Society banquet was held at Westfall April 12. All new initiates and older members of the NHS were invited to the banquet dinner served by Westfall Booster Club.

After a short program following the dinner, the awards were handed out to new members. Mr. and Mrs. Don Frank provided musical entertainment to the crowd of members and families.

Two county offices for the 1973-74 year will be held by two Westfall students; Wyatt Fraas as chaplain; Dave Shannon, secretary.

As her hobbies, Lila enjoys sewing and painting.

This fall Lila plans to get a job at a department store. She is also considering marriage in a couple of years.

Carol Clem Will Head GAA Club

April 28, the Girls Athletic Association met for the election of new officers.

The meeting was called to order by the '72-73 president Pam Williams. Topics of discussion were a softball team, the track team and a volleyball team.

Nominations for officers were as follows: Carol Clem, president; Jean Jude, vice president; Jill Long, secretary; Rae Fenstermaker, treasurer; Vanessa Long, news reporter; Kelly Steinhauer and Jan Long, points-chairmen; Patty Haller and Connie Drummond, sergeant at arms; and Paula Mosley, chaplain.

Easter Drive For Cancer

The Easter Bunny made a visit to Westfall April 19. He was a different kind of Easter Bunny though. Instead of giving baskets to the students, the students put money in his basket. The money the Easter Bunny received was just part of our donation to the Cancer Drive.

Two jelly bean races were set up with Mr. Wilcox versus Carl Fuller and Mr. Kibby versus Jay Clark. In the first race the contestants used a small stick to push their jelly bean down the hall, but in the second race they had to use their noses. Both teachers were victorious.

Also contributing to the Easter Bunny's money basket was the "Jelly Bean Guessing Game." A gallon jar was filled with jelly beans and put on display in the cafeteria at lunch time for everyone to view. For just ten cents one could guess the amount of jelly beans and the closest person won the whole jarful. (Congratulations Tom Schooley)

FHA Banquet Held In April

The annual FHA Carry-In Banquet was held April 5 at Westfall High School. Debbie Hulse gave the invocation which started the banquet. After the dinner, a program was held in the auditorium. A welcome was given by Normalee Rowland, and a historian's report was given by Bev. McDill.

The Emblem of the FHA was then assembled by the freshman members. The chapter was very happy to have as their guest speaker the state FHA Treasurer, Miss Kathy Hummel.

All the retiring officers were presented a red rose by Mrs. Jane Vance. Each year the FHA crowns a senior boy as king. This year Randy Metzger was crowned by Ellie Linton. John Schein and Scott Skinner were the two other candidates.

Karen Fausnaugh, president, then installed the new officers with the help of the old officers. The new officers are as follows: Susan Hillman, president; Jerri Furniss, vice president; Jane Schein, secretary; Jean Jude, treasurer; Mary Musselman, recreation leader; Brenda Strattenberger, news reporter; Debbie Hulse, historian; Carl Clem, song leader; Cindy Hamman, photographer; Janie Henson, parliamentarian.

The banquet was closed with the benediction given by Brenda Streitenberger.

Westfall Club

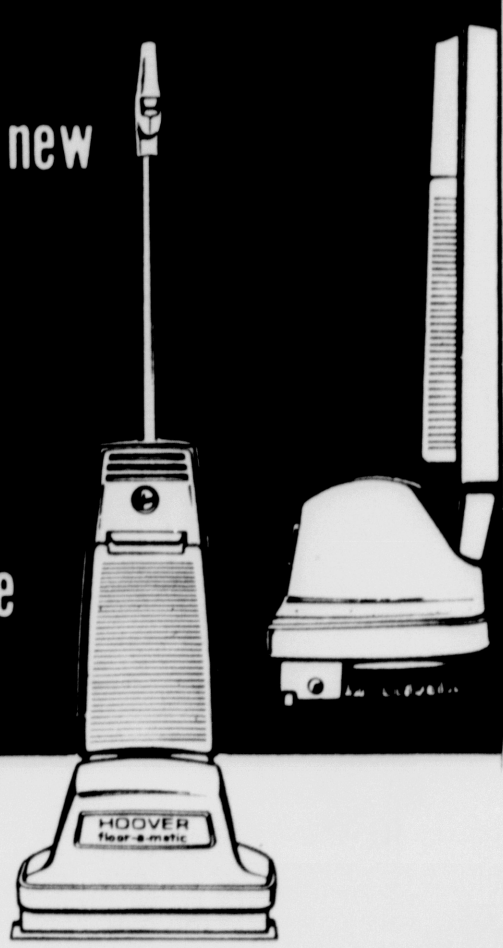

Gets State Honor

Westfall FHA was represented at the Ohio FHA Convention by eight members, two advisers, and two chapter mothers. The group stayed overnight at the Christopher Inn.

Boy Scouts In 'Rescue'

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP) — John had been playing in the park and failed to come home. The news interrupted a Boy Scout "Fun Night" at the park and led quickly to a search.

A fire truck, siren blaring, rolled up, and firemen joined the hunt.

Scouts of Troop 72, began combing the park. Firemen were joined by police.

The search was extended to more than a mile from the starting point. Twenty-five minutes later, Tim Haswell and Larry and Ted Newton were shouting, "We found him."

Only then did the Scouts learn that John was only a dummy of stuffed clothing which had been propped against a tree earlier in the day by Scoutmaster David Keppler and his assistants, Tom Yenny and Don Kelly.

The search was exercise to help Scouts learn.

Vacancy Filled On Stoutsville Village Council

Robert Brobst was appointed to Stoutsville village council filling the vacancy created when Gail Goldsberry was recently named mayor.

Goldsberry is completing the unexpired term of Gobel Brannon who resigned as mayor. In other action Monday during the regular meeting of the village council, Goldsberry named Lloyd Meyer, James Lovett and Ellsworth Wright as a committee to further study the use of federal revenue sharing funds to purchase property for use of the village.

Calvin Danford of Columbia Gas of Ohio was present at the council meeting. John Pontius was present to answer complaints concerning his animals. A request for the village to take over a light on Greeno Avenue was denied since the light is on private property.

Several complaints received concerning water and tile which Bill Sark, street commissioner, will check. Sark noted patching has been started on the village streets. Council members approved payment of current bills.

In attendance were Mayor Goldsberry, council members Brobst, Lovet, Max Marshall, Wright, Meyer, street commissioner Sark, Clerk Mary E. Meyer and two visitors, Danford and Pontius.

of Dimes May 12 walkathon.

Pickaway County coordinator Bruce Bell reported that the bike route would be divided into five rest areas varying from two to six miles apart.

Registration and initial check-in will take place 8:30 a.m. Saturday at the Pickaway County fairgrounds. Checkpoints 1, 2, 3 and 4 will be the Morris EUB Church, Logan Elm High School, Stoutsville, and the state rest area on Route 22.

Final stretch of the health hike will be from the rest area near the Fairfield-Pickaway County line, to the county fairgrounds, a distance of six miles. Last year's walk took between 6 and 10 hours to complete.

Anyone interested in taking part in the March of Dimes walkathon need not walk the entire 20 miles to qualify. Walkers should choose a goal they feel they can complete.

Entertainment by the "Bad Knight" musical group will be provided, along with refreshments, for all participants at the Fairgrounds Coliseum following the hike.

Bell also announced that Cricleville High School Key Club members have been helping organize the walkathon and members of the Pickaway Senior Center will operate at all five checkpoints.

OMSA Names New Officers, Eyes Abortion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Medical Association passed a resolution recommending standards for abortions and elected new officers on the last day of its annual meeting Wednesday.

Dr. James Henry of Grove City was elected president-elect of the organization. Dr. William Wells of Newark will serve as secretary-treasurer for the next year.

Dr. Oscar Clarke of Gallipolis was installed as president of the 10,000-member group at the end of the final meeting.

Clarke is a trustee of the Holzer Hospital Foundation in Gallipolis and has represented his area on the organization's council for the past seven years.

OSMA was founded in 1835 and is made up of 88 county medical societies.

A spokesman for the association said the group has never condoned abortions except when the mother's life was in danger.

He added, however, that in view of the recent Supreme Court ruling, which makes Ohio's anti-abortion law invalid, the association is setting up standards for the operations.

Federal Strike Force Joins Commerce Department Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The U.S. Justice Department's Cleveland-based organized crime strike force has entered the investigation of the alleged stock sale payoff case related to the Ohio Commerce Department.

David Margolis, attorney in charge of the strike force, said that one attorney has been assigned directly to investigate and another has been assigned to the Columbus U.S. attorney's office because of the complication of the case.

The move was made because of the possibility that public officials were involved in the case.

Margolis said that the investigation had not determined that the alleged bribe was a violation of federal law. He said that must be determined before any evidence will go to the grand jury.

The alleged bribe involves Anthony P. LaFatch and the National Realty Corp., which was seeking approval of a $10 million stock sale by the Ohio Department of Commerce.

LaFatch's Miami, Fla., home was raided by FBI agents April 27 and $50,000 in cash and checks were seized. The Commerce Department approved the sale the same day. LaFatch, who also has a home in Akron, Ohio, has not been charged.

Officials of the National Realty Corp. said they paid the $50,000 to LaFatch in order to get approval of the stock sale.

LaFatch was a minor contributor to Commerce Director Dennis Shaul's unsuccessful campaign in 1971 for mayor of Akron.

Shaul later admitted that he had discussed the stock sale with LaFatch. But added, that he thought at that time that LaFatch was probably interested as a potential investor.

Alabama Junior Miss Wins 2nd Award In Preliminaries

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Alabama's junior miss, Lisa Paden, 17, won for the second time Wednesday night in preliminary judging leading up to Friday's finals in the 1973 America's Junior Miss Pageant.

Miss Paden performed a ballet to win first place in the creative and performing arts category in the third round of competition. She had won a first prize in second round preliminaries Tuesday night for placing first in the youth fitness category.

Sue Murphy, 17, of Kailua, Hawaii, also won for a second time Wednesday night. She placed first in youth fitness to go with a first place finish in poise and appearance.

Other winners in the third round of preliminaries were Linda Rutledge, 18, of Fort Leavenworth, Kan., for scholastic achievement, and Karen Heidkamp, 17, of Parkridge, Ill., for poise and appearance.

Preliminary winners received $1,000 each in scholarships to the colleges of their choice.

The winner of the title gets a $10,000 scholarship.

Winners Tuesday night, besides Miss Paden and Miss Murphy, were Kathy Bosko, 17, of Mansfield, Ohio, talent competition, and Judy Hembree, 17, of Newberry, S.C., scholastic achievement.

Winners Monday night were Margo Dodds, 17, Las Vegas, Nev., talent;

Rebecca Jones, 18, Boise, Idaho, scholastic achievement; Yvette Nance, 18, Ro Frio, Tex., poise and appearance; and Betsy Callicott, 17, Memphis, Tenn., youth fitness.

Friday night finals will be televised on CBS. The reigning Junior Miss is Lydia Hodson of Lexington, Ky.

Reds Bombard Phillies For 9-7 Victory

Johnny Bench is alive and well ... in Philadelphia, of all places.

"Maybe now this will remove all doubts about my operation," the Cincinnati strongboy said Wednesday night after driving in seven runs as he blasted three homers off Cy Young Award winner Steve Carlton and, counting a homer his last time at bat Tuesday night, equaled the major league record of four in a row.

"Personally," he added, "I don't pay any attention to it any more."
The 25-year-old catcher, twice the National League's Most Valuable Player, underwent lung surgery last December for removal of a benign lesion.
Despite his record-matching slugging Wednesday night, the Reds needed a tie-breaking two-run homer by Dave Concepcion in the ninth inning to beat the Phillies 9-7.
Elsewhere, St. Louis defeated San Francisco 3-1, Los Angeles held off

Pittsburgh 8-5, the Chicago Cubs whipped San Diego 9-2 and the New York Mets trounced Atlanta 8-1. The Houston-Montreal game was rained out.
It was the second three-homer, seven-RBI game in Bench's career. The other time came on July 26, 1970 against St. Louis and Carlton, then with the Cardinals, was the victim that time, too.
"I got him good tonight," said Bench, who homered to center field with a man aboard in the first inning, walked in the third, hit a three-run homer to right field in the fifth and a two-run shot to left in the seventh.

"But he's got me easy a lot of days. He's a good pitcher. They don't have to worry about him. Remember, he's under a lot of pressure to have another good year."
Rookie Ken Reitz socked his first major league home run as St. Louis ended its latest losing streak at a mere four games by shading San Francisco. It was only the sixth victory in 26 starts for the low-flying Cardinals.

Willie Crawford doubled in two runs to highlight a five-run fifth inning as Los Angeles defeated Pittsburgh. The Pirates pounded out 14 hits against Claude Osteen, George Culver and Jim Brewer, including two-run homers by Manny Sanguillen and Bob Rovertson, giving the Bucs 10 in the three-game set with the Dodgers. The loss was still Pittsburgh's 10th in the last 14 games.
Rick Monday hit a three-run homer and Billy Williams and Randy Hundley slammed two-run shots to power the Cubs over San Diego and into first place in the NL East by one game over Pittsburgh. Burt Hooton scattered six San Diego hits, including a home run by Fred Hilton.

Unbeaten Jerry Koosman fired a five-hitter for his fifth triumph and Rusty Staub homered as the Mets chased Carl Morton with four runs in the first two innings and beat Atlanta. Koosman held the Braves hitless until Oscar Brown doubled with two out in the sixth. Cincinnati's Jack Billingham is the league's only other five-game winner.

Carlton Knows Bench Is Healthy Again

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— Johnny Bench has just about forgotten about the operation he underwent over the winter and has now convinced everyone else to do likewise.

The Cincinnati Reds' star catcher tied a major league record Wednesday night with three—giving him four on consecutive at bats counting one Tuesday, to lead his teammates to a 9-7 victory Wednesday night over the Philadelphia Phillies.

"Maybe now this will remove all doubts about my operation," said Bench, who had a tumor removed from his chest. "Personally I don't pay any attention to it anymore."

Actually it was a two-run shot by Dave Concepcion following a fourth single by Pete Rose that won it for reliever Tom Hall. But it was Bench who accounted for all the first seven runs.

The big catcher looked perfectly healthy as he teed off on lefty Steve Carlton for all three home runs, repeating a performance of July 26, 1970 when he connected three times off Carlton in Riverfront Stadium.

"I got him good tonight," said Bench. "But he's got me easy a lot of days. He's a good pitcher, they don't have to worry about him...remember, he's under a lot of pressure here to have another good year."

"I feel I'm pitching well," said Carlton, "I had him set up twice...he just went out and got the ball."

"This is a great park to hit in," said Bench, who had a double and a home run Tuesday while driving in four runs.

"The lights are good, I see the ball good, and I just like to hit here."

"I've always been a slow starter, I get better as it gets warmer. I don't feel comfortable until the weather gets hot."

Bench, who now has nine home runs and 26 RBIs, feels the Reds are about ready to make their move in the division race.

"We're about to put it together," he said.

Manager Sparky Anderson agreed. "He can carry the club a couple of weeks himself," said the skipper. "He's that kind of a streak hitter."

Rose, who scored four times on home runs, said he never was concerned about Bench.

"I knew he'd hit 35 home runs just as sure as I knew the leaves would turn brown in the winter," said Pete.

Circleville Native Is GM Of Ontario Motor Speedway

A Circleville native is executive vice president and general manager of Ontario Motor Speedway, Ontario, Calif.

He is Jim Cook, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Cook, 108 S. Pickaway St. Cook is a graduate of Circleville High School where he was a 3-sport star, and attended Dennison University.

After graduation from Dennison, he began a successful high school coaching career which ultimately led to a position as an assistant football mentor at Akron University.

While living in the Akron area, he accepted a position in the public relations department of Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. where he was in charge of the racing program.

The connections he made while with Firestone led to his present activities which include managing the business affairs of the Vel's Parnelli Jones Racing team. He also handles such personalities as Mario Andretti, Ray Elder and Ed McCulloch.

The Ontario Motor Speedway, one of the most modern racing complexes in the United States, had consistently lost money under its old management and except for testing purposes was inactive since December until its purchase by a group headed by former Indianapolis 500 winner Parnelli Jones and Indianapolis Motor Speedway president Tony Hulman early in April.

The first planned event at the 700-acre plant is the California 500 Sept. 2. In the new operation, Hulman will serve as chairman and Jones as president. Ontario Motor Speedway Operating Company Ltd. is a general partnership which involves Jones, his business partner Vel Miletich, Cook, Attorney Dudley Gran and the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Mustangs Blanked By Pickerington

Two Pickerington pitchers limited Westfall to just one hit as Pickerington blanked the Mustangs 3-0 in both teams' first sectional tournament game Wednesday night.

Pickerington scored single runs in the first three inning to account for all the scoring. They were credited with two earned runs.

Gibson was the winning pitcher for

CHS Golfers Gain Victory

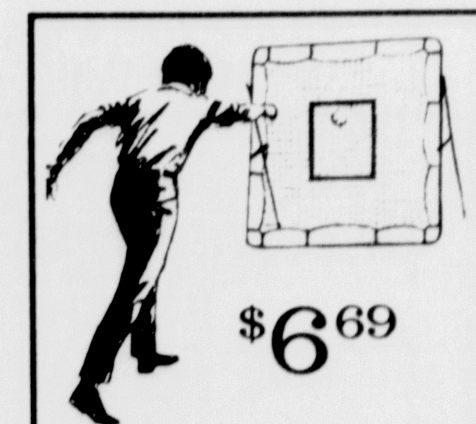

Circleville's golf squad downed Whitehall, 7-4, in a dual match Wednesday at Pickaway Country Club.

Terry Spellacy and Jeff Spires both carded 41s to pace the Tigers, Greg Williams had a 42, Mark McFadden 43 and Ken Yamarick 44.

The Red and Black had a total of 211 strokes and Whitehall 213. Terry Bays of Whitehall was medalist with a 40.

McFadden picked up two points for Circleville, Spires one and one-half, Spellacy and Yamarick one and Williams one-half.

The Tigers will be at Pinehills Friday in the sectional tournament.

LONG AND SHORT OF IT—New York Knicks guard Earl Monroe (15) is dwarfed by Los Angeles Lakers Wilt Chamberlain as Monroe tries to dribble the ball (not shown) away from the 7-foot-1 center during the National Basketball Association playoff game in New York. Monroe is 6-foot 3 1/2. The Knicks won 103-98.

Lakers Still Predict Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coach Bill Sharman of the Los Angeles Lakers maintains his National Basketball Association club has the ability to crack the odds barrier and overcome the New York Knicks starting tonight.
The odds are against him since the Knickerbockers of the East go into the sellout contest of the Forum with a 3-1 edge in the best-of-7 final playoff series and need only one more victory to take the crown from the 1972 champions.
"This team is capable of winning the next three games," Sharman says of his Lakers, who took the measure of New York 4-1 a year ago.

"But we must minimize our mistakes and turnovers and do better on the boards."

Sharman has his prayer and hopefully he'll also have Jerry West although the All-Star guard aggravated a right hamstring strain in the Tuesday night 103-98 loss at New York in the fourth game.

Both of West's hamstrings ache but he vows to be ready to start in the Lakers' do-or-die contest.

New York appears in strong physical shape with Willis Reed playing his best of three seasons—he was the most-valuable in the final playoffs of 1970.

Even better is slightly injured Dave DeBusschere whose three-point play, capping a 33-point performance, beat the comeback of the Lakers in Madison Square Garden Tuesday.

Los Angeles was listed a three-point favorite at Las Vegas, Nev., for game No. 5, but no one appeared to be accepting odds on the overall series.

Circleville Edged By Lancaster, 2-1

Lancaster tallied two runs in the top of the sixth inning to nip Circleville, 2-1, Wednesday on the Tigers' diamond.

Circleville had been sailing along with a 1-0 lead behind the strong pitching of Randy Thomas until the Gales sent two runs across the plate to gain the victory.

Thomas scattered six hits, gave up four walks and struckout four before being relieved by Greg Hoskins with two outs in the seventh.

Shupe went all the way for Lancaster to gain the victory. He allowed four hits, fanned two and didn't issue a free pass in the contest.

Paul England slammed a double while Dave Truex, Rock Davis and Thomas each rapped a single to account for the Tiger safeties.

Essman had a pair of singles for the Gales and Clark, Wright, Dittoe and Wiseman each slashed a one-bagger.

The Tigers broke on top in the bottom of the second when Davis singled and tallied on a tremendous drive into deep left field by England. A fine relay throw by the Gales cut England down trying to stretch the double into a triple.

But the roof fell in for the Tigers in the sixth frame when Essman singled, was sacrificed to second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a single by Wright. A wild pitch and an error in the Tiger infield allowed Wright to come home with the winning marker.

Circleville threatened in the bottom of the seventh when Truex singled, with one out, but a fine catch of a short fly ball and a throw to first for a double play ended the contest.

The Tigers are now 6-5 for the season and will be at Washington C.H. 4:30 p.m. today in the second game of the AA sectional tournament. Greg Hoskins will be on the mound for the Red and Black.

LE Reserve Nine Stops Vikings

Logan Elm's reserve baseball squad (4-3) ended season play Wednesday with a 6-1 win over Teays Valley on the Braves' field.

Steve Rawlins hurled the win for the Braves. He allowed four hits, walked three and fanned 13.

Messick, Brinker and Smith shared mound duties for the Vikings. They gave up 10 hits, one walk and struckout six.

Jeff Reichelderfer paced the Braves with two doubles and a single and Ron Palmer rapped a two-bagger. Bruce Wharton had a pair of singles for Teays Valley.

Colonels, Pacers Again Square Off

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Through the first five games of their American Basketball Association championship series the Indiana Pacers and Kentucky Colonels have gone after each other like two big cats in a small bag.
There's no reason to think tonight's sixth game will be any different.

The series has seen a fistfight, a coach ejected on technical fouls, a lot of pushing and some hard-nosed, bruising defense that has held both teams under 100 points the last three games.

Indiana holds a 3-2 advantage and a victory tonight would give the Pacers their second straight ABA crown and third in the last four years. No other team has won more than one ABA title in the league's six-year history.

The Pacers might have a home-court advantage, but don't count on it. The visiting team has won three of the five games so far, and Pacer team captain Freddie Lewis says, "I sure haven't made any plans for the weekend."

The seventh game, if necessary, would be played Saturday afternoon in Louisville, before a national television audience.

Tigers Spring, Beat Royals, 4-1

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve Busby has been looking like something from outer space to the Detroit Tigers but came down to earth in a hurry Wednesday night.

The Tigers, who had hardly gotten a flying object off the Kansas City right-hander in two games, launched seven hits in three innings enroute to an 4-1 victory.

"The law of averages caught up with me," said Busby, who had combined on a no-hitter against the Tigers in spring training and then pitched a no-hitter himself last April 27 in Detroit.

"I was getting behind a little more tonight than I did in Detroit," explained Busby. "But in Detroit I came back with good pitches—not tonight."

"I was throwing a little too fine, I've got to challenge the hitters. They hit the heck out of the ball, didn't they?" Ironically, Busby faced Jim Perry again—the same pitcher who was on the mound in the no-hit beauty. Perry whipped Busby this time with relief help from John Hiller.

In the other American League games, the Cleveland Indians trounced the California Angels 10-3; the Oakland A's nipped the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 in 10 innings; the Milwaukee Brewers trimmed the Texas Rangers 5-1 and the New York Yankees blanked the Minnesota Twins 2-0.

The Tigers settled the no-hit stigma at once by getting a hit in the first inning off Busby, a single to right by Gates Brown. The Tigers scored two runs off the right-hander in the second on an error and Aurelio Rodriguez' run-scoring single. Brown's single off Busby's leg, which forced the pitcher to leave the game after the inning, sparked another rally in the third.

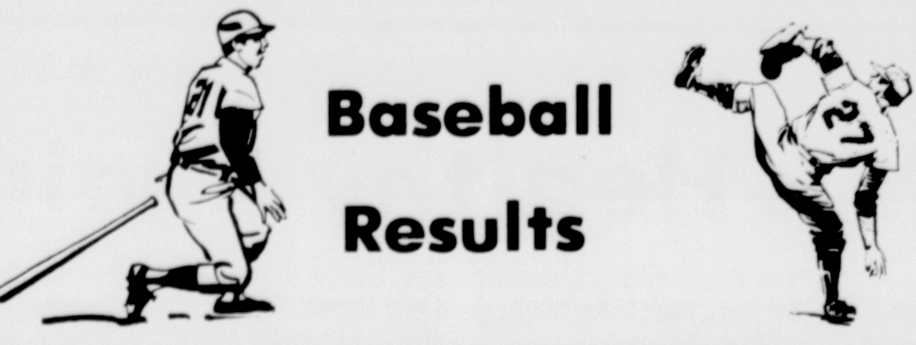

Charlie Spikes and Buddy Bell drove in three runs apiece as Cleveland scored four runs in each of the fourth and fifth innings to beat California. Milt Wilcox was the winner, with ninth-inning relief help from Jerry Johnson.

Joe Rudi doubled home the winning run after an error by third baseman Brooks Robinson opened the door to give Oakland its victory over Baltimore.

"I had time to make a good throw and I should have taken that time...when the throw left my hand, I thought it was perfect but it sailed," said Robinson about his error that allowed Jim North to reach second base and set up the A's winning run.

Jim Colborn pitched a onehitter—Jeff Burroughs' fifth-inning homer—and Dave May drilled two home runs as Milwaukee beat Texas.

Fritz Peterson and Sparky Lyle combined to pitch New York over Minnesota, the Yankees' fifth straight victory over the Twins. The pair gave up nine hits and Jim Hart and Gene Michael knocked in the only runs with singles.

Offy Remains Supreme At Indy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Sixty-one of the 83 cars entered in this year's Indianapolis 500-mile race are powered by tiny four-cylinder engines smaller than the power plants in many compact passenger cars.

But these sophisticated Offenhauser engines, which also have carried the Miller and Mayer & Drake mark for half a century, have been refined in the laboratory of auto racing.

Herb Porter, an engineering consultant for Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., says the Offy engine is the most powerful, inch for inch, in history. Porter conducts the company's tire and engine testing on a fulltime basis.

But Porter, sometimes referred to as the father of the modern Offenhauser engine, notes the basic engine is not all that powerful.

In a 1,500-pound race car, the four-cylinder, 160-cubic-inch engine could only manage about 125 miles an hour, Porter said. Horsepower would be near 200.

But throw on a supercharger and a fuel injection system, and instantly you have about 800 horsepower and the potential to register a 200-mile-an-hour lap, he said.

Swede Savage, running with one of Porter's engines, has turned in a 197.802 lap, the fastest so far this month at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Savage recorded a 192.5 lap in practice Wednesday for the May 28 race.

"We get about five horsepower per cubic inch," Porter said. "If you've got that kind of horsepower out of your average passenger car with a 327 cubic inch engine, you would have about 1,600 horsepower. We get more horsepower per cubic inch now than any other car in the history of the world."

"While we could still get a lot more power, it would be a less reliable engine. More power is available for this year's race than last year's with a greater degree of reliability."

Winning at Indianapolis, he said, depends on the combination of "the power you can get, the power you can use and stay together" and the ability to complete the race on the amount of fuel allotted.

Roundtowners Hold Fete

The Roundtowners Bowling League held its awards banquet and election of officers at Tink's.

Officers elected for the 1973-74 season were: Stella Fausnaugh, president; Jean Hoselton, vice president; Louise Mathews, secretary-treasurer; and Betty Lane, sgt. at arms.

Yates Motors was the league champion with Lucy's Beauty Salon taking second place.

Other awards went to: Sally Ebert and Ruthe Lowe, high game, 234; Ruthe Lowe, high series, 651, and high average, 170; Betty Whitesed, most improved, 13 pins.

Award pins winners were: Stella Fausnaugh, 200-500; Bev Tracy, 225-550; Grace Elliott, 225-550; Ruthe Lowe, 225-650; Elisabeth Longociu, 200-550; Betty Harr, 200-550; Nellie Esposito, 225-500; Sally Ebert, 225; Linda Dunkle, 200-500; Bonnie Spires, 550; Louise Hoover, 200-500; Janet Henson, 500.

High team singles went to Yates with 939 and they also captured high series with 2637.

Soviets Top U.S. Cagers

BAITMORE (AP) — Bob Cousy sat on a storage locker and shook his head.

"That was the weirdest basketball game I've ever seen," lamented the U.S. coach after his squad lost to Russia 72-64 in the final game of a six-city American tour Wednesday. "You might say they out-mayhemed us."

The series, won by the United States 4-2, was characterized by rugged, elbow swinging play, and the finale followed that pattern.

The referees whistled 41 personal fouls against the Soviets, 40 against the Americans Wednesday. Three U.S. players and six Russians fouled out, including the visitors' Aleksandr Shalnev, who picked up his fifth personal with 6:02 remaining in the first half.

In addition, Swen Nater, the backup center from UCLA, was ejected from the game late in the second half for striking a Russian player.

"I don't think that's basketball we played out there tonight," Ron Behagen, the Minnesota forward who was himself thrown out of an earlier game for fighting, said in the locker room. "It may be their game, but it's not ours. Somebody could get hurt out there if they're not careful."

Kilkenny Waivered By Cleveland Indians

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Relief pitcher Mike Kilkenny has been put on waivers by the Cleveland Indians in an attempt to bolster their bullpen.

Announcing the waivers after the Wednesday game with the California Angels, Manager Ken Aspromonte said they would be up today and if Kilkenny is not picked up by another major league club he will be sent to the Tribe's farm club at Oklahoma City.

Connally Out To Establish GOP Power Base

WASHINGTON (AP) — For John B. Connally, there is a job of political salesmanship ahead if he is to establish firmly his new Republican credentials in time for what looks like a crowded 1976 presidential contest.

As he switched parties, Connally said he sought no office, appointive or elective. That is the kind of thing politicians say three years in advance of a presidential campaign.

It is also the kind of thing other politicians discount.

Formally joining the GOP in its hour of Watergate trouble, Connally has been warmly greeted by the party establishment. But some of the same Republican leaders who welcomed him aboard are likely to be his rivals in the years immediately ahead.

When that time comes, men like Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and Sen. Charles H. Percy may well be pointing out that Connally after all is a fledgling Republican with a long Democratic past.

Agnew, Percy, and Govs. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California all are potential entries in 1976 Republican presidential competition. There may be more.

So Connally clearly is not going to move to the top of his new party without a fight.

Having forsaken his Democratic ties, the former Texas governor now needs to get his lines open and his alliances made in the Republican party.

He has the advantage of his role as head man of Democrats for Nixon, an assignment that demonstrated his political preference, and leaves him out of what has become the Watergate scandal.

Associates had said Connally's long anticipated political switch was delayed because of the Watergate controversy. He denies that, saying the scandal had nothing to do with his timing.

Monday, he turned up in Key Biscayne, Fla., to confer with President Nixon at the President's request. He left without taking a new assignment in the administration, but that may yet happen, at least on a parttime or temporary basis.

There had been reports he might be offered appointment as secretary of defense, but the word was that he wasn't interested.

There have been suggestions that he might have had that job in the first Nixon term had he not decided in the waning days of the 1968 campaign to stick with the Democratic ticket instead of openly boosting Nixon in Texas.

The President is a Connally admirer. He once said the Texan could handle any job in the nation or the world. Nixon is said to have told a White House visitor early this year that Connally is likely to top the GOP ticket next time.

More recently, Nixon has been quoted as saying that Illinois' Sen. Percy will never be nominated if he has anything to say about it, in an angry response to Percy's pressure for a special prosecutor in the Watergate case.

But it now appears that Nixon may not have much to say about it. He would enter 1976 as a politician serving his last year in his last office, with dwindling powers to reward or punish politically.

And whatever the outcome of the Watergate case, it will scar the administration.

Republicans are not likely to take their 1976 directions from an outgoing President whose 1972 campaign was pocked by that scandal.

Switching parties a week ago, Connally was asked what he intends to do next. "John Milton said 'They also serve who only stand and wait,' so hopefully, that's the way I can play it for a while," he replied.

But the people who shape Republican politics don't spend much time reading the poetry of John Milton.

Coal Regulations Hurting Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Pollution curbs on high sulfur coals are regulating Ohio coal out of the fuel market, a coal industry spokesman said here today.

John Dragos, secretary of the Ohio Industry Air Quality Council in Cleveland, said sulfur removal systems must be thoroughly demonstrated before being ruled inadequate by state and federal environmental protection agencies.

Dragos told an Energy Crisis Symposium at Battelle Memorial Institute that stack gas scrubbing and liquefaction and gasification of coal are technological solutions that must be developed.

Washington Letter Sold

NEW YORK (AP) — An anonymous Long Island bidder has paid a reported record $27,500 for a letter written by George Washington six years before he became president.

Sotheby Parke Bernet, which auctioned the 22½-page letter written when Washington retired in 1783 as commander of the Continental Army, said it was the most ever paid at auction for a Washington letter.

The letter, dated June 12, 1783, and addressed to the governor of New Jersey, William Livingston, expressed some of Washington's philosophy on government.

Virginia Actor Selected For "Tecumseh" Lead

A national search for an actor to play the title role in "Tecumseh!" has ended with the casting of Mel Cobb as the great Shawnee war chieftan. Tecumseh is the famed Indian whose goal was to confederate the Indian tribes into one great nation.

The drama will be presented in the Sugarloaf Mountain Amphitheatre at Chillicothe. It is based on "the Frontiersmen," by Allan Eckert, who also wrote the script for the tragedy.

Six-foot, two-inch, 190-pound Cobb has appeared in two segments of the television program "Hawaii Five-O," as well as a number of television and radio commercials.

An Equity actor, he has appeared in a production of "Hamlet" in the New York Shakespeare Festival, and has toured in "Ladies Night" with Cannon Productions Inc.

A magna cum laude graduate of Fresno State University, Cobb had leading roles in approximately 14 productions at the university and with Fresno Community Theatre.

He received a master's degree in acting theory from the University of Hawaii, where as resident actor he was in such productions as "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail."

Cobb is a resident of Richmond, Va. Auditions for "Tecumseh!" began in Chillicothe in January. Auditions were held later in other parts of the United States to obtain the best possible cast for the country's newest outdoor drama.

Other major roles include Tenskawatawa, later known as The Prophet; Simon Kenton, famed Ohio pioneer; General William Henry

MEL COBB

Harrison; and Rebecca Galloway, a pioneer woman Tecumseh wanted to marry.

The drama, which will open June 30 and play nightly except Mondays through Sept. 2, is the result of three years' work by citizens from Ross, Pickaway and Pike Counties organized as The Scioto Society Inc.

Jr. High Vocal Concert Slated

Teays Valley's Junior High School music department will present a vocal music program Friday at 8 p.m.

The program will include selections by the seventh and eighth grade choirs, soloists and special groups, singing a variety of light songs and several Walt Disney favorites to commemorate the 50th anniversary of Walt Disney Productions.

Some of the songs which will be performed are: Ben, Bless the Beasts and the Children, Whistle While You Work, Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head, Winnie the Pooh, A Whale of a Tale, Mickey Mouse March, Heigh-Ho, One Song, Let's Get Together, Chim Chim Cher-ee, and Feed the Birds.

Participants with special parts include Don Mitcham, Gregg Cline, Ron Terflinger, Joe Berger, Larry Hale, Cathy Runyan, Cheryl Morehart, Jill Wheeler, Cheryl Miller, Laurie Dixon, Lisa Kaiser, Kathy Drake, Danny Schooley.

Anita Boysel, Ruth Cline, Kelly Duvall, Susie Helsel, Charmaine Henderson, Sheryl McCotter, Pamela Secrest, Debbie Young, Theresa Williams, Bonnie Anthony, Gene List, Susan McVicker, Colene Myers, Kaylene Myers, Ronnie Pickett, Eddie Myers, Connie Stewart, Roger Van Sickle.

The program, which will last about an hour, is under the direction of Miss Darlene Freeman. The public is invited. Admission free.

Scandal Dampens GOP Fund-Raiser

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a personal bid to keep wavering Republicans in line, President Nixon has promised to get to the bottom of the Watergate scandal and continue fighting for his second-term programs.

"I didn't get where I am by ducking tough issues," Nixon told a crowd which paid $1,000 a plate for filet mignon and the President's most spirited defense yet of his embattled administration.

However, planners of the fund-raising affair conceded the proceeds and attendance were far below par and blamed the widening scandal for cooling off donors who chipped in record campaign chests last year.

Nixon warmly praised those who did turn out Wednesday night, and said he and the GOP are still winners.

"This nation, Republicans, Democrats, independents, all Americans, can have confidence in the fact that the new nominee for attorney general, Elliot Richardson, and the Charles R. Orr was recently promoted to the position of Materials Control Supervisor at the local DuPont plant.

He started as a Design Engineer with DuPont and was promoted to Project Engineer and Senior Engineer.

He holds a BS degree in Civil Engineering from Ohio State University and was a lieutenant in the U. S. Navy.

Orr is past president of the Knollwood Village Assoc., a former member of the Circleville Toastmaster's Club, a member of the Board of Directors of the Pickaway Country Club and a member of the Community United Methodist Church.

Orr, his wife Marilyn and sons Keith, 10, and Charles, 6, live in Knollwood Village.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Orr, live in Frankfort.

special prosecutor he will appoint will have total cooperation from the executive and will get to the bottom of it (the Watergate case) and see to it that all of those who are guilty will be prosecuted and brought to justice," Nixon said.

"We are not going to allow this deplorable incident to deter or detract us from going ahead and achieving the great goals the overwhelming number of Americans elected us to achieve in 1972," he said.

The dinner, which raised money for next year's Republican congressional campaigns, had been expected to bring in $2 million, but the official estimate was that it would "barely scrape by $1 million."

However, committee officials confided privately that the paying attendance might have produced no more than $750,000 to $800,000 gross and as little as $600,000 campaign cash.

This would compare to the $1.3-million minimum raised at past off-year events, and the $6 million raised in one night last fall when Nixon addressed a multicity hookup of dinners by closed-circuit television.

"I shall always remember this group tonight," Nixon said, "remember that when the going got tough, you hung in there, when the challenge was greatest, you didn't lose your faith."

Jackson Drops Appeal

Roger Jackson, who was sentenced Jan 5 for the daylight break-in at the Harry Borror residence, has withdrawn his appeal on the conviction.

Jackson, with a female resident, escaped from Orint State Institute in August last year. He was sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary for a 1 to 5 year term.

Huffines Summitcrest Farm Manager

Brad Huffines has been named manager of Summitcrest Farms, Fremont, Iowa, Division.

A graduate of Logan Elm High School, after a 2-year tour of duty in the United States Army, he entered Ohio State University, receiving a bachelor of science in agricultural economics specializing in farm management.

Huffines joined Summitcrest at Fremont last May as herdsman, and effective April of this year was named manager of the 2,000 acre operation which includes a sizeable purebred Angus herd. He will be supervising the annual production sale May 19 when 100 cattle will be offered.

Brand is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Huffines, Route 5. He is married to the former Diana Ankrom, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ankrom, Route 4.

Patrolmen Nab Local Pilferer

The alertness of a pair of city patrolmen resulted in Ralph Tom Hamilton, 18, 921 S. Court St., being taken into custody on a petit larceny charge early Thursday morning.

Ptl. Larry Jirles and Ron Smith were on routine patrol 2:36 a.m. when they spotted the suspect at Plunk's Market, E. Main St., with a basket of tomatoes and a gallon of cider. The items were valued at $2.64.

Upon seeing the officers, the youth attempted to flee the scene. He fell over a pile of railroad ties and was nabbed by the pursuing officers.

He was taken to Berger Hospital for treatment of injuries suffered in the fall before being booked at the city police department. Hamilton was released on a recognizance bond.

Three Men Admit To Burglaries

Three men appeared in court Wednesday to enter guilty pleas to charges of breaking and entering and grand larceny.

Arrested for the Sohio station burglary at Laurelville, Millard Gierhart and Larry Hedges waived their right to legal counsel and jury trial and entered pleas to burglary charges.

Steven Webb, apprehended in the break-in of Westfall High School Feb. 23, also entered a guilty plea. Presentence reports were ordered for all three.

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Early morning delays soon change. An influential person you know gives you the benefit of his support. Even though you have some small annoyances, the overall aspects of today's influences are broad in their scope so you are able to make some long-time excellent changes.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr 19) Get busy with work at hand and don't go off on tangents if you want good results. Try to gain the goodwill of a co-worker. Avoid one who has a chip on the shoulder. Think.

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) Study and arrange creative ideas well in a.m., and you can be successful. The door of opportunity is opened for you by one you know. The morning starts slowly, but by evening all speeds up.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Study family affairs and see where you can improve them. Appliances need repairing or replacement, so handle them carefully. Get free of tensions that have been bothering you for some time.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Consulting with others is best after lunch, when you can put your plans in good working order. Every opportunity is yours for being more productive. Give your attention to your work exclusively.

LEO (July 22 to Aug 21) You can get those money matters working properly, but have to study all details connected with them. A business expert is not in a good humor. Avoid this person now. Contact another time.

VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sept 22) Plan the future more wisely so you have more of the things you want. Don't let some small loss disappoint you. Improve your appearance in some way and feel more sure of yourself.

LIBRA (Sept 23 to Oct 22) Quietly get into talks with experts who can give you the information you need to solve your problems. Then you can proceed in a positive way. Listen to what romantic attachment has to suggest for more harmony.

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21) Plan just how to get the cooperation of allies for some fascinating project you have in mind. Get into that group affair later that can be both enjoyable and helpful to your interests. Don't go to bed too late.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) Some new course should be followed if you are to make your career more successful. Be sure to get the backing of a bigwig. Not a good day to take action, but fine for involving yourself in some public matter.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) New ideas are fine, but make sure you put them in motion at the right time and at the right place, and with the proper persons. Be more alert to what your goals really are. Make sure they are just what you want.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb 19) You have some long-time responsibilities and need some new system to avoid them handled properly. Try to please more in p.m. Avoid some situation that could get you into trouble later.

PISCES (Feb 20 to Mar 20) Discuss with associates questionable points. Get down to the policy level and make the future more profitable and worthwhile. Differences of opinion now can prove to be good, since you learn much. Think.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those little fussbudgets who wants everything around superperfect, but should be taught early to make allowances for human error and to stick to the important, big things of life. Otherwise your child will have a poor and ineffectual life instead of a successful one. Send to schools best suited to the mentality of your youngster. Don't try to push into doing whatever is against the nature. Religion is important here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

New Airplane In Forced Landing

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Pilot Mark Miller of Cleveland made a forced landing of a new small plane in a cornfield when the engine stopped minutes from Lunken Airport Wednesday night.

The plane, with only four hours logged on it, was scheduled to stop in Cincinnati for fuel on a ferrying flight from Cleveland to New Orleans, airport authorities said.

Miller, the lone occupant, said the engine conked out less than two miles from the runway at a height of 50-75 feet.

The plane suffered minor damage.

Medical Services Plan Proposed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new medical profession to provide services between nursing and full medical care is contemplated in a bill pending in the Ohio House.

Rep. Patrick J. Sweeney, D-6 Cleveland, introduced the bill on his own, he said, in an effort to make medical services more readily available and to cut spiraling costs.

"I think this bill offers at least a

DeBruin Is Selected For Who's Who

STEVE DeBRUIN

Steve DeBruin, a senior at Logan Elm High School, was recently selected to be featured in the Seventh Annual Edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students, 1972-73.

Students from over 18,000 public, private and parochial high schools throughout the country are recognized for their leadership in academics, athletics, activities or community service in the book. Less than 2 per cent of the junior and senior class students nationwide are awarded this recognition.

Steve, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl DeBruin, Route 5, is active in football and baseball at school as well as National Honor Society, 4-H and FCA. He was named to the SVC all league team as linebacker and earned the defensive lineman trophy presented by the American Legion.

Steve plans to attend Earlham College.

Camp David Pot Smokers Are Ousted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the military men assigned to Camp David have admitted using marijuana while guarding the presidential retreat in the Maryland mountains, the Pentagon says.

The Defense Department said Tuesday that it had removed 28 Marines and 18 Navy personnel from Camp David duty following an investigation into marijuana use there. President Nixon frequently works at Camp David, as did his three immediate predecessors.

"Some of the personnel transferred admitted use of marijuana at some time during their assignment," said the Pentagon. "Others were either suspected of use or provided information used during the investigation."

The Pentagon did not name those who admitted to using marijuana, nor did it disclose the number.

The servicemen were assigned to the Navy Support Activity at Thurmont, Md. That unit is responsible for maintenance and security at Camp David, which has been used by several presidents as a retreat.

"Because of the sensitivity of the assignment and the special clearance procedures followed in the selection of personnel for assignment to the facility, all personnel involved in any way were transferred," said the Pentagon.

partial solution to a very serious problem," he said. "The idea is to authorize something like the paramedics in the military—people who can perform a task like putting on a splint without charging something like $200.

The Cleveland's bill calls for the new professionals to be licensed by the State Medical Board. Standards would include one year's education under a physician's supervision.

The board would adopt standards to assure that the "health and welfare" of patients would not be endangered.

The board also would be required to formulate guidelines for physicians to follow in the employment of an "interceptor"—the term used in the legislation to define an applicant for an assistant physician's license.

Answers To Questions About Social Security

(Q.) My sister works as a cook in several private homes and I work seasonally as a cook in a hotel. Since we both do the same kind of work, don't both of us get social security credit for what we're paid?

(A.) Not necessarily. Since you are employed by a firm operated for profit, you get credit under social security for all your earnings up to $10,800 a year. However, your sister is a household employee. For her earnings to be credited under social security, she must be paid at least $50 in cash wages by one employer during a quarter. Only those employers who paid her at least that much would have to report her earnings for a particular quarter.

(Q.) Our family doctor says my father will need a hospital bed for use at home. Since my father has coverage under both parts of Medicare, who decides if he should buy a bed or rent one?

(A.) Your father does. However, your father should keep in mind that Medicare payments are made over a period of time, based on the reasonable rental rate for a hospital bed. These

The bill demands that an applicant must be 21 years old and "of good character." Sweeney said he anticipated that the program would attract paramedics leaving military service.

No physician could employ more than two interceptors at a time for training to do specific jobs in the fields of pediatrics, internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics, general practice, and "such others that might be approved by the board."

Sweeney said the legislation creates a Health Manpower Advisory Commission to give examinations for an assistant physician's license. The board would include a broad cross section of medical services representatives.

They would include representatives of the medical board, the Department of Health, and the Department of Education along with one doctor, one registered nurse, and one physician's assistant when at least 10 have been employed.

Sweeney said he still is sounding out various medical professionals. The Ohio State Medical Association is one that he had not contacted.

"I'm still doing my research," he said.

Charles Edgar, public relations official of the OSMA, said "we're aware of the bill. We're studying it."

REA Lending Plan Approved By Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional conferees are said to have approved a new $1-billion-a-year lending program for America's rural electric and telephone systems.

President Nixon, who killed an earlier program of direct loans from tax funds at 2 per cent interest, is expected to sign the compromise legislation if it gains final congressional approval, a Republican source said Tuesday.

Senate action on the measure may come today. If the senators approve, the legislation would go to the House.

In essence, sources said Tuesday, Senate-House conferees accepted the basic terms of the House-passed bill after removing mandatory language on loans at 2 per cent interest. This language was made discretionary, sources added, thus eliminating mandatory features that originally drew GOP opposition.

Furthermore, Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz is said to have supplied a written pledge that administration officials would keep the program going at an annual level of roughly $1 billion during the next three years. The legislation itself is permanent, creating a revolving fund.

The package would involve $763 million a year in insured loans, most of it at 5 per cent interest but $105 million of it at 2 per cent interest. There would also be an estimated $200 million annually in guaranteed loans. This would cover rural electrification.

Rural telephone bank programs would be continued, with several amendments in the law.

The goal of the low-interest loans is to provide help for the more needy rural systems. After killing the 2 per cent interest arrangement, Nixon had provided a plan of private financing for REA-backed loans with requirements that they bear 5 per cent interest.

KEY CLUB SLATE—The Key Club held its annual election of officers Monday night at the Pickaway Arms. The Circleville Kiwanis Club members were guests at the meeting. Officers installed were: from the left, Rick Bumgarner, secretary; Scott Simpson, treasurer; Dave Harmon, vice president; and Dick Husky, president. Key Club Lt. Gov. Tom Spring praised Bill Rosengarten, who has resigned as club advisor to continue his post graduate education, for his leadership.
